

STORMS TAKE 35 LIVES

ROGERS MOURNING FOR OLD-FASHIONED KIND OF MAY DAY

Special To The News
BOSTON, May 3.—Say, what's this May Day thing? We used to look on it as a beautiful spring day when we had a picnic and a fastened tin-pan-along to the top of a pine and danced around and sang and played. We had no mass production, only in children. We had no Federal Reserve or farm relief. Every body was just poor and ignorant enough to be happy.

But now, May Day, with all our modern accomplishments, is for the fellow that is dissatisfied. He puts in his only hard day's work of the year. He rises early so he can denounce longer.

He prints an obituary notice, on a banner, of everything that has tried to make him earn his living during the year and he just has one of the best times of his life.

Hurrah for progress!
Yours,
WILL.

From the library comes the statement that people will take a book if it is on display in small rack much more readily than if it is in the stacks.

Members of the local staff are of the opinion that nearly every volume in the new branch on the east side will be out by Saturday evening. And while it is on our mind, if you're up East Washington street, drop into the library and have a look around. It is a fine little establishment, and one that the staff and the east side may well be proud of.

Pa New in his young life does not recall anything like the number of storms that are being experienced locally and throughout the country as a whole, as are being experienced this spring.

New Castle may get a glimpse of some of the balloons in the race to start at Pittsburgh Saturday. Weather conditions will determine whether the balloons will come this direction or not. They did not come towards New Castle last year.

This city begins to take on the earmarks of a boom industry. With resumption of the cement plant, there is now more industrial activity than has been reported for some years in New Castle. Practically all plants are in operation near capacity.

TWISTER DESCENDS WITH SUDDEN FORCE

Seven Youngsters Are Missing, And Seven Others
Are At Point Of Death In Hospitals

(International News Service)
RYE COVE, Va., May 3.—Fifteen school children and a male teacher are dead, seven students are missing and seven others are believed near death today constituting the human toll of a tornado which wreaked its destructive fury on this village yesterday.

Seventy-eight pupils are listed as "dangerously hurt," and about one hundred and fifty others are recovering from painful but minor injuries sustained when the tornado demolished the Consolidated school building here.

The tornado struck without warning shortly after the luncheon recess had ended. One hundred and fifty-five students were at their desks, undisturbed by intermittent showers and the ominous wall of rising winds. Windmills in this mountainous section of Southwest Virginia are a rare phenomenon.

Twister Wreaks Havoc
Suddenly the rising winds merged into a shrieking, twisting battering ram that struck the Nollechucky Valley with terrific force about a half mile below the school. The twister leveled a half dozen buildings at its first blow, fortunately with no fatalities, and then swept in a crazy, swerving path at the schoolhouse and its unsuspecting occupants.

In an instant the schoolhouse was a whirling bedlam, torn from its foundations and hurled into the air by the terrific impact. In another instant it was a complete ruin, with bodies of students crumpled on the ground, others maimed and screaming, and still others fleeing in hysterical fear from the schoolhouse, now reduced to matchwood.

Despite the immediate and complete severance of communication, parents from outlying sections, where most of the children lived, quickly learned of the disaster and within a short time were arriving at the scene in hordes, bringing conveyances ranging from ancient automobiles to farm wagons.

Ambulances from Kingsport, Bristol, Gate City and Johnson City clanged into Rye Cove and the pitiful task of separating those beyond aid from the living was begun.

Crown May Queen In Senior High School Festival Of Flowers

Boreas might puff out his cheeks in choler today, and the leaden clouds come sweeping across a rain-drenched world, but inside the Senior high school one might have imagined that some of the old Greek and Roman goddesses had gathered in defiance of the elements.

Terpsichore and her dancers, Euterpe with her lyric poetry, Aphrodite and the nymphs, Flora and the choicest gems from her flower garden, and with them all, Freya, the Norse goddess of music and flowers. All of them were there, it almost seemed, or at least lent their good offices to the flower festival which was presented by the girls of the school under the direction of Miss Marjorie Rhodes today.

Little Missing
What mattered it that the Storm King had decreed that May Day festivals were banned on lawn and campus? Festivals can be put on indoors, and very nicely so, and while the sun was replaced by electric lights and the greenward by a wooden stage, it was just as pretty. Just as symbolic of spring as though it had been presented under a thousand elms.

Daisies and tulips, and pansies and pink flowers, garbed in yellows and pinks and lavenders and greens, paid homage to the May queen, and from her throne she smiled indulgence at the corpeuses and human blossoms below.

The festival opened with the queen's court marching in from the corridor, followed by the queen's attendants.

Two Students And Professor Ousted By Pitt Officials

Pitt Officials End Big Controversy With Liberal Club By Expulsions

DISSENTING CLUB STANDS DISSOLVED

PITTSBURGH, May 3.—University of Pittsburgh authorities today had the upper hand in the controversy with the Liberal club, undergraduate civic organization, with the announcement that two members of the club and a faculty member, allied with group, had been expelled.

The three expelled, following a conference yesterday evening with A. H. Armbruster, dean of men, are: William Abertson, president of the Liberal club; Arthur McDowell, member of its executive committee; and Frederick Wolman, graduate student and assistant professor in the Department of philosophy.

Wolman, who was not a member of the Liberal club but was known to be in sympathy with it, is also secretary of the Pittsburgh branch of the American Civil Liberties union which has taken up the university's ban on meetings of the Liberal club as an issue involving the right of free speech and assembly.

Club Dissolved
In a statement issued through the office of Chancellor John G. Bowman, the university declared that the club was dissolved and banned from the Pitt campus because it had degenerated into an agency "seeking propaganda and publicity" and because it had broken university rules for its conduct.

Wolman, in a statement, attributed his dismissal to his activities in connection with the Civil Liberties union, which he claimed were objected to by university authorities.

Abertson and McDowell attacked the university's statement concerning the Liberal club and claimed they had (Continued On Page Two)

Neshannock Roads Damaged By Storm

Neshannock Township Roads Damaged Badly; Bridge On Harbor Road Washed Out

The heavy deluge of rain Thursday evening caused road damages amounting to hundreds of dollars in addition to washing out a small bridge on the Harbor road in Neshannock township, according to the report from E. J. Douglas, supervisor.

The Valley, Pulaski, Mercer and Mitchell roads are dangerous for travel, according to the report, and motorists will have to use more than the usual care in traveling.

Other roads were reported to be in a damaged condition, but those mentioned were damaged to the greatest extent.

Lehigh Portland Cement Plant Ordered To Re-

OVER 200 MEN ARE AFFECTED BY ORDER

Wampum Cement Plant Is Also Again In Operation After Shutdown

Orders were received from the general office at Allentown, Pa., on Thursday afternoon, to start the New Castle plant of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company as soon as it was possible to get the plant in order, according to W. H. Kleckner, manager of the plant here.

Workmen were started immediately preparing the machinery and according to Mr. Kleckner, the mill will be under way about the middle of next week.

The resumption order will send about 225 men back to work and will start the cement plant after an idleness of several months. Mr. Kleckner could not say what day he would start, but thought that he would have the plant in readiness by Wednesday of next week.

Wampum Plant Resumes
After being idle for some time, the Crescent Portland Cement Company at Crescentville has resumed operations, and about 200 men have been returned to work. While the plant is not operating at 100 per cent capacity it is expected that it soon will be, according to Walter Rice, plant manager.

Some improvements have been made in the plant. A new blending system has been installed which takes the place of the wet process in making cement and which turns out cement as good or perhaps better than the old system employed. Four new storage silos have been erected which increases the capacity of the plant to 325,000 barrels of cement.

The resumption of the Crescent plant means more cement for the entire country. The cement market has been rather weak during the past winter and as a result cement plants all over the country have been either down or running at less than capacity.

Terrific rain and wind storm, which swept over this city and county about six-thirty o'clock Thursday night and continued with unabated fury for about thirty minutes when its intensity lessened, did much damage in all parts of the city and county. It had the proportions of a cloud-burst and came from the north and west.

In the city, it swept beyond the control of the sewer system, took the path of least resistance and properties in many sections of the city, which had just been placed in first class condition for the summer, are washed out and damaged in some instances to a very considerable extent.

With the great surplus of surface water seeking lower levels, the sanitary sewer system of the city, even in the highest points of the city, became filled with this surface water and backed up, filling many cellars.

The reason for the near flood of Thursday afternoon and evening has been discovered. Call it an equinoctial storm if you wish, define it scientifically if you can, but you'll never convince the Caliphs of Baghdad that it wasn't just to wet down the dust for their whoopee tonight in the Cathedral.

It's this way, mates, as the caption said to the crew as he led them to the Duchess's place on the corner. Tonight is ladies' night for the Caliphs of Baghdad and from Greenland's key mountains to India's coral strand, the wives, sweethearts, mothers, sisters and the rest of the female appendages to his family are planning to be there.

Many Sections Suffer Heavily In Storm Series

South Mid-West, Pennsylvania, All Report Terrific Storms

HEAVIEST TOLL IN SCHOOL DISASTER

Millions Of Dollars In Property Loss Reported
Over Nation

(International News Service)
Thirty-five deaths—thirty in the south, one in Pennsylvania, two in Ohio and two in a train wreck at Oswego, N. Y.—and millions of dollars of property damage are the results today of a series of storms and tornadoes which terrorized the Dixie and Mid-Western sections of the country.

International News Service reports from widely scattered districts indicated that in many sections suffering is intense and that the toll of injured persons will mount into the thousands.

Some parts of the South, where the storms wreaked their greatest fury, are virtually isolated with all means of communication out of order.

A freak of the lashing elements was a snowstorm borne into Buffalo, N. Y., where the ball game was called off because of snow.

The heaviest toll of lives was taken in Rye Cove, Va., where a twister demolished a school building and worked other structures. Fifteen students of the school and a male teacher were killed, while more than 150 others were injured. The entire Nollechucky valley was reported leveled as a result of the storm.

Jail Is Struck
In Columbus, O., six persons gained their liberty when the tornado struck a wing of the city jail. Two prisoners were killed.

In Woodville, Va., one student was killed and several injured when the high school building was demolished. At Emburyville, Tenn., a miniature tornado demolished five houses and caused the death of a woman and a babe.

Near Foley, Ala., a man was killed and several others, including a woman and child, were injured in a similar disaster.

Undecipherable Message Received By Bandit Places Police On Alert

INTERCEPT LETTER IN CODE AT ERIE

Is Mailed To Highway Patrolman's Slayer From Rural Hamlet Near Kane

KANE, Pa., May 3.—Police throughout this section today were placed on their guard against possible bank robberies as a result of a code message alleged to have been received by John Bard, confessed slayer of Russell Keeney, Mt. Jewett state highway patrolman.

McGregor, Bard, who is a prisoner in the Erie jail with two of his accomplices, received a letter in code postmarked at Marienville, Pa., about 24 miles from Kane, according to authentic information received here. Erie police and code experts were unable to decipher the message.

The authorities are speculating on the possibility of members of a Minneapolis gang, of which the three men are alleged to be members, being stationed in Marienville, they see a possibility the letter was mailed there by some one going through.

Erie police claim that Bard and his two pals are members of a gang planned to transfer part of its activities to this section.

When arrested they were traveling in a stolen car which was heavily laden with guns and ammunition.

The possibility that the gang plans to go ahead with its plans is not being overlooked by police and today a warning was broadcast to banks throughout northwestern Pennsylvania.

TWO STUDENTS AND PROFESSOR OUSTED BY PITT OFFICIALS

broken no rules laid down by the university for their conduct.

The new between the administration and the student club started two weeks ago when Dr. Harry Elmer Barnes, Smith college sociologist, was expelled from Pitt's campus when he appeared to address the club.

Speech delivered
Dr. Barnes was to discuss the Mooney-Billings California labor case but was refused permission to speak on the campus. He delivered his address to the club on a vacant lot near the university.

Discussing the Barnes case, the university today said that he had been requested to leave the campus because the permit for the Liberal club meeting where he was to appear had been revoked prior to Dr. Barnes' arrival.

After the Barnes episode, the club met in university building in defiance of an order dissolving it and burning it out from the campus.

No action was taken by the university on the meeting until last night when Dean Armbruster summoned the conference which resulted in expulsion of Albertson, Orr, McDowell and Weisman.

AUTOS CAUSE TRAFFIC JAM

With the rapid increase of automobiles, Pottsville, Pa., has a serious traffic problem. In most of the 60 miles of streets there is no sufficient room for even two cars to pass with ease. Two automobiles cannot pass, and frequently when a motor car approaches, reckless passengers are compelled to alight and the reckless driver of the roadway. Some of the thoroughfares are being widened to 40 feet, but the majority are still too narrow to accommodate the traffic.

mule that had been caused by some ditch which was hopelessly smothered in the rush of water. These ponds were about a foot and a half deep and invariably at every one there would be a car stalled.

The dirt roads of the country which have just been whipped into shape since the recent deluge were hit hard with last evening's storm. Many of them are now impassable and small bridges have been completely washed out, according to reports.

Just when we have two or three days of nice sunshine and the ground is fairly well dried up, it starts to rain again. We have heard of the farmers praying for rain but if this keeps up they will soon have to start praying for sun.

Early risers report that it snowed considerably along about 4:30 this morning. However the ground was so wet it soon disappeared in the city. Fields in the suburbs were white at 8 o'clock.

New Castle Lions are going to make a strong bid for next year's convention when the annual meeting of the organization is held in Altoona early next week. Leon Kegarise is going to fly to Altoona in his plane as part of the program of publicity.

The heavy rains late last evening caught a lot of New Castle people unprotected. Many had gone to work in the morning without raincoats or umbrellas.

We happen to know of several streets that didn't fare so well with the rain last night. Gravel on the Mercer street hill was washed down onto North street during the heavy thunder showers. And plenty of other unpaired streets were gutted.

Thought sure we were going to need another "ark" last night after the rain had pelted down at its hardest for 45 minutes and was still going strong. The Neshannock creek as well as the Shenango river rose considerably in almost no time.

Last night was the night of Pollock's school opera. While many ventured to say there would be no one there because of the weather, there was just the opposite, almost "Rock Dream," the title of the opera, was presented in a most delightful manner. The auditorium was well filled.

GLASS OPPOSES PLAN TO REMOVE ANDREW MELLON

for the treasury post under the 100-year-old law forbidding the secretary from being interested in or carrying on the business of trade or commerce, never was raised against any of them.

Opposes Ouster Move
Senator Glass told International News Service how he and his Democratic colleagues held stock while at the head of the treasury. He incidentally announced he would oppose the present move to oust Mellon.

"Of course I owned stock while secretary of the treasury," said Glass, in his Virginia drawl. "So did McAdoo and Houston too. Why I was the largest individual stockholder in an industry down in my state all the time I was in the treasury. But I did give up my bank stock though that wasn't hard to do because I owned so little."

Then Glass demanded: "Are you in favor of going to the poor-house in order to become secretary of the treasury?"

When his question went unanswered, the Virginian added: "Well, that's what you would have to do if their interpretation of this law is correct."

Previous Secretary of the Treasury, Alexander Hamilton, first secretary of the treasury, owned banking stock while in the cabinet of George Washington. The treasury department also supplied information showing that other secretaries in the administration of Cleveland had owned securities, without the legality of their service being questioned.

The controversy now raging at several sessions of the senate judiciary committee is thus developed to a point where one law on demand the personal investigation of Mellon on his security holdings. In a deposition he made last July in a civil lawsuit, Mellon described himself as a "factor" in the affairs of the Aluminum Company of America and revealed he had taken a leading part in negotiating a merger between this concern and a Canadian company. He then told of owning 15 per cent of the stock of the $100,000,000 concern.

A Democratic-Insurgent coalition in the committee has contended this tremendous holding forces Mellon to be "interested or concerned in carrying on the business of trade and commerce." They argued the secretary had to show some interest in the management of the concern because of his tremendous investment. In his deposition, he admitted being consulted on questions of "policy" and they pointed to this as indicating the interest in the business affairs of the company.

Mellon Group Fights

The Mellon group, however, has fought to limit the committee's inquiry to a mere decision on the "meaning" of the law. This faction argued that the committee should merely interpret the law for the senate and allow the senate to determine whether further steps should be taken. To investigate the legality of Mellon's continuance in office and the question whether he has violated any law in the past, this group contended, would be with the house of representatives, which has the sole power of impeachment.

A poll by International News Service indicated an eight to six vote in Mellon's favor, with three senators recorded as "doubtful" but friendly to Mellon. A final vote in the committee, however, may not be taken for several days, since the controversy has provoked prolonged debate and the end is not yet in sight.

SEARCH RUINS OF SCHOOLHOUSE FOR TORNADO VICTIMS

loading of thirty eight of the most dangerously hurt onto a Southern Railway train at Clinchport.

Trucks were cleared for the train and it sped over clear tracks into Bristol where the sufferers were rushed to hospitals. Six of the children taken to Bristol were reported near death.

Four others were placed in ambulances at Rye Cove and taken to Kingsport, Tenn., where one was reported dying. Doctors and private families at Clinchport opened their homes to thirty six others and scores of seriously injured students were hurried away to their homes by parents the first moments of relief after finding their children alive.

Officials estimated that a complete checkup of the injured will not be available for at least a day and a half, due to the fact that enrollment records were destroyed and because many parents hurried away with their children soon after the disaster.

A house to house canvass of farm homes throughout the ten mile radius of sparsely settled country will be started today to determine if all children are accounted for.

With all lines of communication interrupted, newspapermen were forced to relay their reports and for a time wild rumors were afloat as to the magnitude of the human toll taken by the twister.

EXPECT 2500 TO ATTEND CALIPH'S LADIES NIGHT AFFAIR AT CATHEDRAL

a little better, they put on a party that gives them a chance to show off the storm and strife, and gives the ladies an opportunity to see what the other ladies are wearing.

Howard B. Richards, who has the handle of Chief Caliph when the lodge is in session, is talking about 2,500 people tonight, that would be 1,250 men and 1,250 women if figures are still truthful, and what he hasn't got planned for the party wouldn't make any difference.

There will be a vaudeville show, a buffet lunch by the way, has you eat buffet, a flock of prizes for the ladies, God bless 'em, and then a couple of hours of dancing around as the boys in the back room call dancing.

Very Trick Affair
It promises to be a trick affair, oh, positive. From Oil City and Sharon, from Ellwood and Beaver Falls, from Butler and points east to New Kensington, the Caliphs and their Caliphesses, or whatever the female of Caliph is, will be on hand, ready to go, and when they go they go a lot.

The time for starting the ruckus has been set at eight o'clock eastern standard time. So there it is. Tonight at eight o'clock in the Cathedral Caliphs put on their annual spring tantrum with the ladies present to add color, dignity and eclat to the occasion. What time it will finish isn't anybody's business anyway, the time will not be mentioned.

down in the storm killed a farm boy.

The storm apparently blew itself out in Maryland. At Frederick, a number of barns were blown down and communication crippled.

Home Blown Down
Near Laytonville, Md., a gale blew down the home of Bowie Childs, a farmer, killing his 80-year-old mother and his 8-year-old daughter. Other members of the family were injured.

Forty houses were reduced to wreckage and 50 persons injured when the tornado swept over McGrawtown, W. Va.

The outskirts of Jacksonville, Fla., were lashed by the storm with the consequent result that two persons are dead today and 12 others are recovering from injuries.

High winds, at times reaching tornado stages, slashed through western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, causing one death, uncounted injuries and an estimated million dollars property damage. Buildings were blown down and unroofed, farm and fruit crops were hit hard and communication and transportation facilities impaired.

In central and eastern Pennsylvania heavy rain and winds did considerable damage to property and crippled telephone and telegraph lines.

Snow Falls
Throughout central Illinois, southwestern Michigan, eastern Indiana, Missouri and eastern Iowa crop damage exceeding $1,000,000 was caused when snow and rain followed in the wake of a northeast gale.

In some sections six inches of snow had fallen, while in St. Louis and Valparaiso, Ind., four inches were reported.

In the eastern section of the country preparations were being rushed to meet the storm which is now reported to be sweeping toward the Atlantic coast line.

Shipping circles in New York and other Atlantic ports were warned of the storm's approach.

Four More Deaths

NOKEVILLE, Pa., May 3.—Four more deaths were added today to the toll taken by last night's tornado through Southern and Western Virginia.

Charles Alle and his twin daughters, 16 years old, were killed at Onetta, near here when their home was demolished by the wind. Charles Laws also was killed.

About a dozen persons were injured, and nearly all the homes in this section suffered varying degrees of damage.

EMBARRASSING IMPLICATION

A hostess was endeavoring to fill a gap in an entertainment. "Mr. Jones," she gushed, "I'm sure you'll help us out with a song."

"I'm sorry," replied Jones, "but I'm afraid my vocal efforts are confined to singing in my bath."

The hostess looked disappointed. "Oh, never mind," she insisted, "do sing—I'll warn them that you're out of practice."—Boston Transcript.

STAR LORE ABOUT METEORS

Upon any clear night one may see several meteors—shooting stars—fall in an hour's time. The number that fall in 24 hours upon the planet is almost innumerable. Fortunately, most of them are very small, so that they burn up before striking the earth as a result of heat generated from friction between meteor and atmosphere. Thus they are converted into gas and dust. However, an occasional meteor falls to earth, it being too large to be consumed during its dash of 30 to 40 miles per second through the earth's atmosphere. It is then known as a meteorite, and usually is preserved in a museum when found.

Residents Waive Sewer Damages

City To Build Four Foot Sewer Between Sheridan And Euclid

When members of city council met today a report was delivered to the lawmakers showing that all of the property owners affected had agreed to waive damages and permit the city to construct a four foot "conduit" sewer on their land between Sheridan and Euclid avenue.

This, it is said, will alleviate the sewer conditions in that section.

Council voted four to one. Tyler voted negatively. Tyler maintains that the city is not responsible for the situation.

Councilman Reeves offered a motion that the report be accepted and this was done.

His next motion, which passed with Tyler voting negatively, asked for bids on the proposed conduit.

CROWN MAY QUEEN IN SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL FESTIVAL OF FLOWERS

students and then the old queen, Miss Lucille Martin, and the new, Miss Nellie Brady, senior high school's May queen of 1929. Back of the new queen were the train bearers, Peggy Griffith and Maxine Bolland, and then came little Mary Elizabeth Allen, the crown bearer, carrying the crown, a watch, a chain and daisy as an orchid.

Up onto the stage they went, with the pomp and circumstance of a royal coronation. Arrived on the stage, Queen Nellie knelt before her predecessor, Queen Lucille, and with the 1,500 subjects of the Senior high school looking on, she was crowned queen of the May.

Then the Tributes
Came then the tributes to the new queen, the flower festival. The tulips danced in with their flaming colors, the sun flowers and the daisies, the poppies and the single dandelion, Miss Peggy Griffith. Two poppies were there, Dorothy Usselson and Dorothy Sankey, with Maxine Bolland and Dorothy Patch.

It was a pretty thing, the flower festival. Not too long, but most interesting. Colorful and catchy, graceful and entertaining, and while the outdoors may add a trifle if the day is bright, yet this indoor festival was so well done that one forgot for the moment that outside was drear and bleak.

Miss Marjorie Rhodes supervised the festival, with Miss Isabel Zehner in charge of the music and choruses. Miss Helen McGowan, and Miss Helen Maloney assisted Miss Rhodes.

The accompanists of the day were Anna Patterson and Carrie Gibbons, with Danny Cassella as violinist.

The cast follows:
Queen, Nellie Brady.
Attendants: Helen Furst, Zella Myers, Eleanor Rohrer, Helen Twaddle, Ruth Calahan, Irene Jinks.

Former queen, Lucille Martin.
Attendants: Jane McGowan, Jane Moore, Mary Burns, Frances Aiken, Edna Jackson, Marion Baker.

Crown bearer, Mary Elizabeth Allen.
Train bearers: Peggy Griffith, Maxine Bolland.

Dundell dance, Peggy Griffiths, Sun flower dance: Hazel Houston, Hazel Fisher, Kathryn Boston, Charlotte Bartlett, Pearl Marshall, Elizabeth Conover.

Daisy dance: Janet Bowen, Margaret Egan, Edna Foster, Jean Renley, Dorothy Cain, Geraldine Summers.

Pansy-butterfly dance: Maxine Bolland, Dorothy Patch.

Solo, Hazel Campbell.
Readers: Helen Blaha, Helen Weingartner.
Tulips dance, squad leaders.

BROOM DIET KILLS BARBOON

George, the rare jazz-tinted baboon of the London Zoo, has died as the result of forbidden fruit in the form of a broom. A first scientist thought that his demise was due to some ailment coughed at him by his many human admirers. Investigation showed that he had eaten the bristles of a broom behind his keeper's back, and the spiky morsels had turned his interior into a very good imitation of a pin cushion. A scientific observer declared that George displayed an additional human trait in digging his grave with his fangs.

Deaths of the Day

Funeral Services.
Funeral services for Miss Effie McLeister were held Thursday morning at the home of Rev. P. P. Campbell of 836 Adams street with her pastor, Rev. W. H. Armstrong of the Wesleyan Methodist church in charge assisted by Rev. F. J. Davis of Massillon, O., and Rev. Miss Dwyer of Canton, O.

There were many friends from out of town and relatives from New Castle and Pittsburgh. Selections were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Lyshon.

The pallbearers were F. E. Welker, George Leiberger, Charles Boule, William Lyshon, Laver Ringer, Gus Leiberger. Interment was made in Zion cemetery in Mercer county. The pastor was assisted by the grave by Rev. E. G. Lusk of Sandy Lake, Pa.

Carl A. Powell, Jr., infant son of Carl A. Powell and Dorothy Vaughan Powell of Wilmington avenue, died May 2 in the Shenango valley hospital.

Funeral services took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Dr. Robert W. MacKenzie
Dr. Robert W. MacKenzie, aged 54 years, of 115 North Jefferson street, died Tuesday morning in St. Francis hospital, Pittsburgh, where he had been removed from the New Castle hospital the Sunday previous following an illness of two weeks duration.

Dr. MacKenzie had been a resident of New Castle for several years. He was graduated from the Pittsburgh Medical school with the class of 1893. He had always been active as a physician until his recent illness.

Surviving him are one son, Robert J. and a daughter, Jean H. wife, Jean Cavanaugh MacKenzie, preceded him in death.

Funeral services took place this morning at nine o'clock from the home of his sister, Mrs. P. S. Klingensmith, of 355 Carleton boulevard, Pittsburgh. Burial was made in Edinwood cemetery.

Mrs. Graham Buried.
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Benjamin R. Graham, mother of Prof. Ben G. Graham of Pittsburgh took place Thursday afternoon from the residence in Pittsburgh. Additional brief services were held in Oak cemetery at New Wilmington in charge of Rev. J. Ralph Neale where burial was made.

Mrs. Susan J. Gilkey.
Mrs. Susan Jane Gilkey, aged 72 years, widow of Francis M. Gilkey, passed away at her residence at New Castle, Pa., Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock following a brief illness.

Mrs. Gilkey's death was the result of complications from which she had been suffering for about two weeks. She was born in Beaver County, July 6, 1856 a daughter of Thomas and Mary Jenkins. She had spent principally all her life in Lawrence County and was well known and highly esteemed in the community of New Galilee. For many years she had been a member of the Bethel United Presbyterian church.

Surviving her are eight sons: Joseph W. of Mt. Jewett, Pa.; John A. and Thomas E. of Canton, O.; W. Arthur of Rochester, Pa.; Frank R. and Earl D. of New Castle; Loyd W. of New Galilee and George R. Gilkey of Altoona. Her husband preceded her in death about four weeks ago, on April 5.

Funeral services will take place Sunday, May 5 at 2:30 p. m. E. S. from the family residence. Burial will be made in Bethel cemetery.

PITTSBURGH POLICE HUNT FOR BOMBERS, SIX PERSONS HURT

outgrowth of an alleged bootleg war between Italian factions of the district.

Down In Saloon
A dozen persons were in the saloon when the bomb was thrown into the doorway. One man, John Ennis, 29, was just leaving when the blast went off. His legs were badly mangled and he was near death when police arrived a few minutes later and found him lying in the entrance.

Scores of residents nearby were hurled from their beds and windows in houses and stores were shattered by the bomb.

Police were told that two persons had been loitering in the vicinity of the saloon just before the bomb exploded and that they were seen running toward an automobile shortly afterward.

Rotarians To Give Cup To Flying Delegation

International News Service
VANCOUVER, B. C., May 3.—A cup will be donated to the largest delegation of Rotarians to fly to Vancouver for their district conference here May 8 and 9 when more than two thousand members of the organization are expected to gather from all points in the west, including Alaska and Mexico.

Delegates from Ketchikan, Alaska, Oregon and Idaho have expressed their intentions of coming by air. T. B. Burton, of Mexico City, president of Rotary International, will attend.

C. Of C. Members To Have Meeting Here On May 16

E. A. Fenton, Of Pennsylvania Railroad Will Be Toastmaster; W. R. Cox, Speaker

PLAN BIG PROGRAM FOR MEETING HERE

E. A. Fenton, local Pennsylvania railroad supervisor, will act as toastmaster for the second membership meeting of the New Castle Chapter of Commerce which will occur May 16 at The Castleton. It is announced by James W. Cole, secretary, W. R. Cox, general traffic manager of the Pennsylvania company, will be the main speaker at this meeting.

In addition to these men from the Pennsylvania company, the famous Red Arrow quartet and local Pennsylvania orchestra will furnish entertainment for the gathering of all the Chamber of Commerce members. The program of entertainment, states Secretary Cole, will be left in the hands of Toastmaster Fenton and with the support of these musical groups, a good entertainment program is assured.

This will be the second such meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to occur this spring. The first meeting took place at The Castleton some weeks ago and was well attended by the entire membership. Colvin B. Brown, United States Chamber of Commerce representative, spoke at this session.

Landis Speaks At District Meeting

Rev. G. M. Landis Addresses Plain Grove Convention; Officers Installed

Rev. G. M. Landis, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city spoke on "The Work, The Worker and The Way," at the Plain Grove district Sabbath school convention which occurred in the Unity Baptist church in Harlansburg Thursday evening.

Robert M. Strickler, county president installed the newly elected officers at this meeting. These officers are: W. J. Eakin, president; Everett McConnell, vice president; Mrs. A. I. Dickinson, secretary; W. H. Stoner, treasurer; Mrs. C. L. Breneman, children's division superintendent; Mrs. C. L. Moorehead, home department superintendent; James Peebles, teacher training superintendent; Mrs. C. B. McCommon, temperance division superintendent; J. L. Burton, adult superintendent; Charles W. Elliott, young peoples superintendent; Mrs. Jennie Blevins, mission superintendent; Mrs. Robert Armstrong, parent training superintendent; Rev. A. I. Dickinson, administrative superintendent; Rev. N. B. McClung, religious education superintendent.

Among the resolutions which were submitted by Rev. A. I. Dickinson and passed by the group was "that the body urge the proper respect and observance of all laws be cultivated, especially with regard to the prohibition laws, and that we urge that the laws not only be obeyed but that we teach the children in the home and the Sabbath Schools and from the pulpit to have proper respect for the sanctity of all good laws."

LINDY'S FIANCEE DODGES CAMERA

Stopping off at Cleveland to visit relatives before going on to the Morrow residence in New Jersey, Miss Anne Morrow, right, fiancée of Colonel Charles Lindbergh, and her sister Elizabeth, spent most of their time dodging cameramen whenever they ventured out-of-doors. A photographer managed to snap this one as the girls hurried to a waiting automobile.

Prehistoric Man Is Million Years Old

Chicago Egyptologist Traces Man's Origin To Valley Of Nile

International News Service
PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Prehistoric man without any warning suddenly appeared in the Nile valley of Egypt a million years ago according to the theory of Dr. James H. Breasted, famous Chicago Egyptologist. In Egypt as in other places where traces of man first were discovered all evidence points to the abruptness of man's first appearance he said. "Several geological strata of earth known to immediately precede that in which man's tools are found reveal no traces of man at all. The human evidence appears all at once and thereafter gives evidence of continuous existence," said Dr. Breasted. He also believes the first man lived in the Nile Valley of Egypt. The date was at least several hundred thousand years ago and much earlier if we follow the geologists who estimate the length of the Pleistocene era at nearly or quite a million years ago," Breasted explained.

Day's Prayer In Congress

Rev. Pat. W. Murphy, pastor of First Baptist Church, Nashville, Ark., and former chaplain of the Eighteenth Infantry, First Division, during the World War, offered the following prayer in congress at the day's session opening:

God of our fathers, known of old,
Lord of our far-flung battle line,
Be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

O Lord, Thou hast been our dwelling place in all the years.
Be with us in our hours of triumph and in our hours of defeat.
God help us not to forget.
We invoke Thy blessings upon the Congress of these United States and upon the Chief Executive of our great Nation.
Now, our Father, as we go forth to face the duties of this day, we pray Thy blessing to rest upon us; and now may the grace of God and the communion and fellowship of the Holy Spirit lead and guide with us through this day. Amen.

Gibson Opposes German-Soviet Arms Proposal

Ambassador Hugh Gibson Leads Offensive Against "German-Soviet" Plan

RESERVATIONS TO BE RESTRICTED

GENEVA, May 3.—Hugh Gibson, representative of the United States at the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission meeting today led an "offensive" against the German-Soviet proposal for direct limitation of war material by category.

Mr. Gibson, who is United States ambassador to Belgium, announced that the United States withdrew its reservations regarding the French suggestion for indirect limitation of war materials and military budgets. "America desires complete publicity regarding the amount of war supplies on hand," Gibson said. "Failing to obtain this desired publicity the United States would prefer categorical direct limitation."

Ready With Support.
The United States, continued Ambassador Gibson, is ready to support the majority whose national defense rests chiefly upon land troops. Today's session terminated in a violent attack by Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet delegate against "all little monkeyshirts."

Discussion of war materials was not completed and will be taken up again tomorrow. There are indications that when a limitation treaty is eventually drawn, it will make little if any mention of war making supplies maintained by the regular armies.

Nor is there any indication that military establishments will be limited much below their present normal strength.

NOT LATE!

OLD FATHER FAITHFUL.
Mrs. Wild Goose came rushing to get Peter as she had known the boy all her life.
"Husband has been telling me what a fine chap you are," cried she, "and I could hardly wait to meet you. Unless you were a Wild Goose you could have no idea what a pleasure it is to feel there are a few Two-Legs who are kind and friendly. We have learned by bitter experience to think they are cruel. But now you have come along to prove the exception to the rule. I have always said there is no family—not even the Two-Leg family—so bad that there are not some good folks among them."

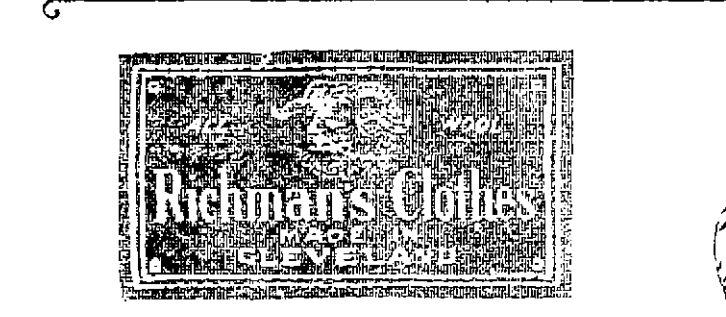

Mrs. Wild Goose smiled in such a friendly way that the boy couldn't feel angry at her poor opinion of his race so he said nothing and just smiled at her. The gentle lady continued:
"Of course husband has told you what a devoted family we Geese are—he always does just as soon as he meets any one for the first time—but I'll bet he spent more time in talking about me than he has about the children."
"To be sure I have and why not?" demanded her husband. "There is only one 'You' and there are ever and ever so many 'Goslings'—a new lot every year."
Mother Goose chuckled.
"That is what he always says when I scold him for making such a fuss over me. Don't you think for a moment though that Gander doesn't love me?"
"No nor that he isn't proud of them," added her husband puffing out his chest. "I'd like to see a finer brood in all the North country or east or south or west, either for that matter. I was telling you about our honeymoon Gander dear and all those joyous we and all the other lovers were in those carefree days but we have had many a happy time together since. The cares of a growing family have never upset as very much have they?"
"If they ever did it was not for long," declared Mother Wild Goose. "I will say that life might have been pretty wearisome for me all those long hours when I used to watch and listen for the first crack in the shells—that my crack that told me my babies would come out into the world—if it had not been for you."
"You stood guard night and day watching, so no danger could come near me. And when I grew cramped from sitting on the eggs too long then you would take my place so I could run about and stretch my legs. No bird could have been more loyal to his family than you, Old Father Faithful—what's what you were?"

Iowa Girl, At 16, Has Had 20 Operations
Infection, Following Injury, Finally Results In Loss Of Leg
BRANDON, Ia., May 3.—Twenty operations, one a leg amputation, in four years, is the experience of Iris Zinser, 15-year-old Brandon school girl.
Iris suffered from a bone infection, contracted in 1923 when she injured her knee. At first thought trivial, the injury grew worse until it affected the whole leg and necessitated its amputation.
The operation proved to be the first of a long series, most of which required bone replacements, long periods in hospitals and convalescence which seemed only to develop new ailments.
Last June, though, Iris left the hospital for good, although she still reports every month for examination. But she goes to school and plays with the other youngsters.
"And that's the most important thing," says Iris.

Our Greatest Menace

LEANSING, Mich., May 3. — The greatest menace to America is leisure, says Eugene T. Liles of Washington, representative of the Playground and Recreation League of America who addressed 1,400 delegates to the twelfth annual Congress of Michigan Parents and Teachers here recent.

"Not the few but the many have leisure," Liles said. Parents, educators, religious and civic leaders and sociologists fortunately are showing concern and are pointing out that what we have before us is a problem of right and wrong use of hours, days, and weeks of marginal time during which people can either degrade or destroy themselves or can elevate themselves.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

THE SNEAK

Sneak is not a nice word. When we think of the word we think of a low, sneaking fellow with whom we would not care to associate. The fact is that sneak is a large word, and includes many things with which we do associate. Sneak, in fact, is a very broad word. Some extremely unbecoming things, pleasant things, are sneaks. They seem to have inherited or acquired a sneaky disposition. It appears to be perfectly natural to them. Every little boy likes to play a sneak. Only they don't call it that. They think they are subtle. Every little girl likes to play a sneak. Only she doesn't call it that. Little boys who never grew up in the sneaky.

CREDIT

A man who runs to the bank to get credit for a piece of work is usually the kind of man who very much needs the credit. He is about out of it. If your results don't entitle the boss that you're a k. k. k. and likely your words will.

IT DEPENDS

One reads the following dispatch from a North Carolina town: "A practical venture in socialism is seen in the civic co-operation of 200 inhabitants of Siler Park, a small coastal village on the banks of Beaufort Sound."

"No mayor, alderman, policemen, firemen, judges, legislators or civic officials are in the settlement. No taxes are imposed, no laws passed, no court maintained. All male residents are employed by the same firm and each draws the same wage. Equal work and equal pay, with equal rights and equal privileges are rules of the village."

"Riots, drunkenness, disorders are unknown. The inhabitants apparently are interested in the welfare of each other, and the community at large as, perhaps, in no other section of the world. In religion they are fundamentalists. Every person on the island attends church, and Sunday school regularly."

Probably the form of government, or the lack of government, has much less to do with the situation than the quality of the individuals. Here are gathered an unusual group of men and women, as far as disposition and character are concerned. As others come to join the group from the outside, the experiment may fail, as most such experiments have. It all depends, after all, not on the rules of government, but on the quality of the human being.

Oat Crops Decrease With Auto Advent

CHICAGO, May 3.—The automobile has driven the oat crop from the fields of the United States.

According to figures compiled by the Colorado State Department of Agriculture, oat production during the last 42 years reached a peak as far as acreage is concerned in 1914. In that year, 225,000 acres were harvested within the state. The highest money return for a year's crop came in 1917 when the value of the crop was $84,500,000.

In 1928 the average was only 183,000 after a steady decline since 1914. The value of the 1928 crop was $2,680,000.

Soldiers Home Inmate Fired For Bootlegging

MONTROVIA, Colo., May 3.—James Clifton, commonly known as "Jim" of the Colorado State Soldiers and Sailors Home here without his means of obtaining money today for his occupation had been taken away from him.

"Jim" had worked up a good bootlegging business around the home where he lived. Officials of the home showed him the state and when he was discharged from his long-time abode state officers arrested him and he was fined $100 and costs for violating the dry laws.

Milk Giving Tree In Chicago Exhibit

CHICAGO, May 3.—A specimen of the famous Guatemalan cow-tree is now represented by a complete exhibit in the Field Museum here with sections of the trunk slashed from which the milk is seen dripping.

The next exhibit, installed under the direction of Professor Record, who discovered the tree, gives off a white fluid which has the appearance and taste of cow's milk.

California Mine Has Comic Strip Name

OROVILLE, Cal., May 3.—The "Toiler" was added today to the long list of names of places and quartz mining claims in Butte county. However comic strips are no the only source for mining claims, county records reveal. Men who seek riches from nature's treasure box are dreamers—some with a sense of humor.

Flying Fragments Injure Workman At Bessemer-Cooper Engine Plant

GROVE CITY, May 3.—Bob Hoover, an employee of the Bessemer-Cooper company, was painfully injured Wednesday morning when a high pressure air line on the erection floor burst.

The man was sent to his home. He was struck about the legs by flying fragments of metal.

The detonation was heard for some distance, considerable speculation being rife in the vicinity of the plant, as to the cause of the explosion.

PRESENT PLAY

The college play "Within the Law" was presented last evening in the Carnegie auditorium and will be repeated tonight.

The play will mark the final appearance of two students who have taken an active part in dramatics during their college days. The work of Max Glenn of Butler and Helen Box of the Pittsburgh district has always been excellent and it will be difficult to find others to fill their places.

ENTERTAINS DOCTORS

Mrs. O. O. Bashline was hostess to the doctors associated with the Bashline-Rossman hospital Monday evening at a very delightful birthday party in honor of her husband, Dr. O. O. Bashline, at their home on West Pine street. The guests included Dr. W. F. Rossman, Earl Gedney, Ray Morris, George Cline and Mrs. T. J. Robinson.

AUXILIARY MEETS

A meeting of the Grove City auxiliary was held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. A. Black on Poplar street. Business of importance was transacted at this meeting and plans were made for the celebration of National Hospital day in the local hospital. The date set for National Hospital day is May 12 but the local auxiliary will celebrate it on May 11 instead.

Women's Next Battle Waged On Tobacco

VALPARAISO, May 3.—Having aided in bringing about national prohibition the W. C. T. U. next probably will make an assault upon the tobacco and cigarette "evil" according to an opinion expressed here by Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley of Liberty, Ind., president of the Indiana W. C. T. U.

"I believe that the next great campaign of the W. C. T. U. will be launched against the tobacco and cigarette evil," Mrs. Stanley declared.

250 Chicago Buildings Condemned By City

CHICAGO, May 3.—Every tenement in Chicago's slums is to be razed immediately in an effort to stamp out tuberculosis and crime. Building Commissioner Christian P. Paschen announced.

Owners of 250 buildings already have received notification they must either repair, put in safe condition or wreck their buildings within ten days.

Improvement associations in the so-called slum district have assured the building commissioner of their whole-sale cooperation.

CITIZENS RELATE SEWER COMPLAINTS TO COUNCILMEN

Last Night's Deluge Brings Renewed Demand For Relief

By City

Last night's deluge of rain precipitated 50 minutes of argument among councilmen in New Castle, and a deluge of complaints which has not been used to make some work might have brought aid to the sewer system.

In fact, the various arguments were so heatedly that at one point Councilman Davies remarked that if the persons in charge of the situation do not understand how to help the situation they should be removed from office.

The complaints presented in brief follow:

Charles Davis, attorney, Hazlet street, charged that the north and south lines are not a grade. There is no storm sewer in Highland avenue and as a result the water overflows into the street.

Robert W. H. Leasure, attorney, Hazlet street, charged that the storm sewer is clogged at both ends and that the situation is intolerable. Councilman Reeves witnessed the plumb last night. Councilman Tyler's motion to have street men clean the sewer was passed.

Ira Miller, Sampson street, declared he had recently averted a complaint council had promised relief, and that it had occurred again. "We have to pay our taxes. We want action. If we cannot get it, remove the man who cannot give it and hire one who can," he said.

William Sullivan, Elm street, sent a letter to council. He has been before the council several times. Apparently he has not been able to get any relief and the condition has reached a point where the foundation of his home is being ruined.

Damages To Auto Alleged In Suit

Mrs. Rosella C. Clark Asks $1,352.36 From The Atlantic Refining Company

Rosella C. Clark has filed a suit against the Atlantic Refining company at the prothonotary's office here to recover $1,352.36 damages to an automobile which figured in a crash on the Greenville-Sharon road near Clarksville.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that the car was being driven south by William M. Clark, and that in rounding a curve it was struck by a gasoline truck of the defendant company.

It is claimed that the automobile was being driven on the right hand side of the road, and that the truck, in rounding the curve, was over the center line of the road, and that it was being driven at a speed of approximately 35 miles per hour. It is claimed that this was a higher rate of speed than is allowed for truck. The automobile was badly wrecked in the crash and it is claimed that the driver was negligent. The driver of the truck was D. D. Ralston.

Arlington Avenue Store Is Robbed

Large Amount of Goods Stolen From Store Of D. Bertieri

Store of D. Bertieri of 856 Arlington avenue, was entered during the night by thieves, who secured what little change was in the cash register and then proceeded to help themselves liberally to the stock of the store.

Officer Lockard made the investigation following the report and found that entrance had been effected by removing a window at the rear of the store.

After the cash register had been looted of some 100 to 150 pennies, the thieves took some 20 pounds of sandwich meats, six pounds of butter, three hams weighing 28 pounds, a carton of Camel cigarettes, seven lbs. of coffee, ten pounds of veal, three pounds of sausage, soup, cheese, apple butter, corn beef and other articles.

Mrs. Rosenkrantz is serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison as an habitual criminal. Riker, in Los Angeles on a lecture tour, has been held for questioning by police.

Assistant District Attorney Authorized In New Bill Passed

Lawrence County Court Has Been Appointing One At Each Session Of Court

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has received a copy of a recent act of the legislature, authorizing the appointment of an assistant district attorney in counties of the sixth class.

Lawrence county comes under this class. The appointment is not compulsory but may be made by the district attorney with the approval of the president judge. The salary is fixed at a minimum of $1500 and a maximum of $3500, the salary to be determined by the salary board.

Since Lawrence county has been given two judges it has been the custom to appoint an assistant district attorney for each session of quarter sessions court. The work has been passed around among different attorneys. The cost to the county under this plan has usually run around $300 per session, and there are four sessions each year.

The matter of appointing a permanent assistant district attorney has not yet been given serious consideration here.

City May Build Retaining Wall

Lawrence Auto Also To Build Dyke Along Neshannock Creek

Council today acted favorably on a motion presented by Councilman W. V. Tyler directing the city engineer to prepare plans and an estimate and the city solicitor to write an ordinance calling for the construction of a retaining wall at the foot of Apple alley to connect with a wall to be built by the Lawrence Automobile company.

The company proposes to erect a building and a wall. L. C. John today asked council if it desired to arrange for a wall to connect with the dyke to be built by the company. The action which was sponsored by Tyler followed.

Council did not discuss anything pertaining to the closing of the alley as suggested by a company attorney and opposed by another recently.

DEALERS DISCUSS COMING OUTING

Plans for the coming meeting of the automobile salesmen of the city and dealer members of the automobile association were made today at noon at the meeting of the New Castle Automobile Dealers Association which took place at the Elks Club on North Mill street.

The meeting followed a luncheon which was served at 12:15 in the private dining hall. A. C. McCoy, president of the association, was in charge of the meeting.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Missionary Society
The May meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church met Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. W. H. Williams presiding.

Plans were made for the Association of Women's Missionary Society which will be held in the local church Thursday, May 16.

George Ramsey, superintendent of the Rhodes Mission gave a most interesting talk on the work of the mission. He told of the beginning of the work how he had felt the great need of some religious instruction for the boys and girls who lived in the community east of this city. He spoke of how when the first Sunday school was started of having six workers and one scholar. The school has now an enrollment of over one hundred, many of these being converted at an evangelistic meeting held some weeks ago.

Mr. Ramsey's talk was much appreciated by the women present. An interesting program on missions was carried out by Section Eight. Refreshments were served later by Section Seven.

County Federation

Of Women's Clubs

Sitting in four different organizations within four days, and giving attention to the attitude of the women as the same proposition was made to each organization, was an excellent way to feel the pulse of the women of New Castle over civic affairs.

On each of the four occasions the chair repeated the request that had come to her that the organization take an active part in putting on the canvass for the equipment fund for the Jameson Memorial hospital.

On each occasion the request: from the chair was followed by silence. A close study of the women's faces, so quickly sobered by that request, failed to reveal the thoughts behind the facial masks—whether they be for or against the proposition. There was no turning of each to her neighbor for opinions of assent or dissent. There was no flinching, loss of the heads of difference. One could almost imagine a funeral air about the place. One could be very sure of the concentrated, earnest thinking of those present.

On each occasion it was necessary for the chair to break the silence. "What shall we do about this?" And each time there came the same response, given with the assurance of a thoughtful, weighed decision. "Why, sure we will help with this canvass."

On each occasion there was no dissenting voice. More than that, there was no query nor quibble as to the way or the why. There was just one answer—"Sure, we will."

On each occasion it was the recognition of the greatness of this gift of a hospital to New Castle; that was a sobering thought. It was the recognition of the acceptance of this gift that places a responsibility upon each individual citizen; that was a thought to be weighed. It was a recognition of the glorious task of building and then equipping this place of healing; that has brought from the women of New Castle the response—"We will."

Report Heavy Fall Of Snow Early Today

According to residents of New Wilmington, snow fell to a depth of over an inch there early this morning. Traces of it were still visible along the road at 8 o'clock but soon melted.

Local street car men enroute to work on the early shift around 4:30 stated that considerable snow fell in New Castle but soon melted.

TO DONATE POTATOES

AT CASTLE MISSION

L. Schmidt, evangelist-superintendent of the Castle Hill mission says that he has 45 bushels of fine potatoes donated by Mr. and Mrs. Chas.

Patton of the Harlansburg road which he will distribute to needy families throughout the city.

Mr. Schmidt prefers to give them to widows and needy families where there are a number of children. He will give other things that he has to spare to those who call for them. Transportation will be paid to those who have to go on the street car.

The potatoes were hauled to the mission in a truck furnished through the kindness of George Dewberry.

SUCCESSFUL, HOWEVER

By J. C. OESTRICH, International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, May 3.—American talking pictures have scored an unprecedented success in England, but many improvements will have to be made in them before they meet with the approval of the movie critics of the London newspapers.

Such as in the United States, the opinions of the theatrical and movie critics here are widely read, but they rarely if ever have any bearing on the ultimate success or failure of the productions which are discussed.

Laugh At Hollywood

In the case of the "talkies," the critics on the London newspapers have had a lot of fun at the expense of Hollywood, but in almost every case they have been forced to admit that in spite of derogatory criticism, the pictures have managed to draw the crowds.

The principal criticism launched against the present crop of talkies from Hollywood concerns the American accent which is noticeable in the films. The films which have starred Clive Brook and William Powell have been favorably commented upon because of these actors' British accent, but in almost every other case, the critics have poked fun mercilessly at the Americanisms which the pictures bristled.

Perfect English
Following the premiere of one super-talkie here, almost every critic commented on the line spoken by one of the actors, when he told the leading lady that she "spoke perfect English."

"As not one of the actors or actresses had spoken anything even nearly approaching 'perfect' English throughout the entire film," one critic declared, "the audience was justified in bursting into hysterics when this ingenuously uttered line was spoken." The critics are unanimously agreed that the English people want talkies made with British voices, but so far the producing concerns here have been slow about getting around to make them.

Find Man With Throat Slashed At Beaver Falls

Motorman Makes Gruesome Discovery Early Today; Victim Near Death

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., May 3.—A man believed to be Michael Korsin, 50, of Pittsburgh, was found with his throat slashed from ear to ear in a ravine at Morado Springs park, near here, early today.

Unconscious and drenched with last night's heavy rain, the man was discovered by the motorman of a Harmony car crossing a trestle at 5 o'clock this morning. Police were notified and sent the man to Providence hospital, where it was determined his wind pipe had been severed. He is expected to die, hospital authorities said.

No weapon was found near where the man was found, which leads police to the belief that the man was hauled to the ravine. The name under which the man is registered by police was found on an envelope in his clothing.

Shame alone would keep the world decent, but alas! so many are ashamed of the wrong things.

FREW BUILDING — MILL STREET AT NORTH

Pollock Operetta Pleases Audience

Heavy Rain Falls To Mar Plans For Presentation Of "A Rose Dream"

JR. HIGH AUDITORIUM IS LARGELY OCCUPIED

For several hours last evening rain threatened to mar plans for the Pollock school's operetta, "A Rose Dream," presented by a cast of some 200 children in the auditorium of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school. When the starting hour drew near the downpour ceased and as a result a large audience turned out to witness the production. Everything was carried out with clock-like precision and the fairy operetta in two scenes took the fancy of the audience. The costumes were attractive and the manner in which it was produced was amazing. Teachers of the Pollock school had long prepared for the operetta, and when the rain began to pelt down early in the evening it appeared as if everything would be spoiled. It was necessary to march a large number of children from the Pollock building to Ben Franklin before the play, and had the storm not ended when it did there's no telling what would have happened. Characters all the way down from the fairy queen to the members of the chorus performed in a way that highly delighted the audience. The story of "A Rose Dream" is that little Rose, who has wandered away from home and is lost, falls asleep. The fairies find her, and the queen designates Hop-O-My-Thumb to guide her through the land of the lost, and later to Fairyland, her kingdom. This occurs in the first scene. In the second part they have taken her to Fairyland, where the queen holds her court. Can and Carl, the twins, are there, and Little Rose finds a tiny bud amidst her bunch of roses. The fairies and the elves do their best to entertain her. Finally, little Rose's sleep comes to an end, the curtain closes, and thus "A Rose Dream" is over.

GIRLS AT WELLESLEY WORRIED ABOUT COLLARS

WELLESLEY, Mass., May 3.—Now that the ban against smoking on the campus has been lifted at Wellesley college the girls have a new subject for discussion—whether high or low collars shall be worn with the formal caps and gowns. "Higher education with lower collars" is the battle cry of the radicals in the senior class who demand that the high bone collars of the gay '20s shall be replaced by the low "bab" collars of the 20th century. The more advanced group urge the innovation on the grounds of comfort while the opposite camp contends that there is more dignity of appearance and "tradition in the higher variety."

Damage Is Slight About Lakewood

Road Across From Beach Is Flooded In Some Places; Water Is Falling

Reports from the Lakewood beach district, near East Brook, indicate that slight damage was done at various points when the deluge of last evening struck that section of the county. John Rung, proprietor of the beach, said that little damage was caused around the lake. Recent improvements have made it almost impossible for high water to do damage to the buildings, like it did during the downpour several weeks ago. The water in the lake was receding this morning. The creek road directly across the lake from the pavilion was inundated at different places.

Wooster College Student Missing

Youth Last Seen Leaving Home Of Girl Friend In Pittsburgh, Last Saturday

PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Working on the theory that he tried to "hitch-hike" his way back to college, and met with foul play or accident, police today requested authorities in towns on highways between Pittsburgh and Wooster, O., to aid in the search for Marvin Rife, 20 year old ministerial student at Wooster college.

Rife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rife of Wooster, came to Pittsburgh last night to aid in the search for their son.

With them came Dwight Ramage of Belle Vernon, Pa., a close friend of young Rife.

Ramage confirmed reports made to police that Rife had come here Friday to visit Janet Hobson, North Side high school student.

Miss Hobson told authorities that Rife left her Saturday evening to go to a downtown hotel, get his luggage and return to Wooster.

Nothing has been heard of the youth since he left. Miss Hobson's home.

Accurate Information Needed In Battle Upon Crime Wave—Hutchins

Youthful Newly Elected Chicago University President Talks About Crime Wave

National Survey Of Conditions Needed By Government In Stamping Out Evil

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN, International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1929, International News Service
NEW CASTLE, N. J., May 3.—America's "bookkeeping" on crime is "notoriously defective."

We don't get at the facts. The first step to bring about law enforcement in the United States should be the acquisition of accurate information on the administration of criminal justice.

In other words, a comprehensive national survey of the crime problem. This is the viewpoint of Robert Hutchins, dean of Yale law school who, at the age of thirty, has been appointed president of the University of Chicago. When he assumes his new duties on July 21 he will be the youngest college president in the country.

Dean Hutchins recently conferred with President Hoover at the White House, and it is believed he may be asked to serve on the president's so-called crime committee.

Paramount Problem. Interviewed today at his office in the Yale law school, the tall, good-looking young dean admitted that crime is one of the paramount problems confronting the American people. Asked what in his opinion should be done to strengthen law enforcement, he said:

"Acquisition of reliable information is the first step. There are only a few states in the country that know what is happening. Georgia has made a good survey of criminal justice. Virginia is now making one. Illinois and Missouri have done excellent work in this respect, and a survey is now being made in Massachusetts, but, generally speaking, our methods are notably defective."

"Yale is now conducting a study that embraces both the criminal and civil business in Connecticut, Massachusetts and New York. We have four years more on a grant from one of the Rockefeller boards and will carry the study into other jurisdictions in that time."

"America's administration of criminal justice is a complicated machine, the accounting system of which is notably defective. We wouldn't run a collar factory in the loose manner we do the business of administering the law."

Not Due To Prohibition. Dean Hutchins would not attribute the increase in crime in America to prohibition, or any other one factor. He said he "had no idea" just what has caused the "apparent" increase in crime. He might be able to answer that after a trustworthy national survey had been made. He said people attribute crime "to whatever they do not like, whether it be the automobile, high pressure living or gothic architecture."

He could not say whether there is anything radically wrong either with our present legal system or with the procedure of our criminal courts.

"When this country has an accurate and standardized system of obtaining crime information we will be able to decide definitely just what is wrong," said Dean Hutchins. "Today the methods differ in almost every state. It is exceedingly difficult to obtain accurate figures on juvenile delinquency, an important factor in crime."

One of Dean Hutchins' projects in his social science work is the institute of human relations. Explaining this, he said:

"It is an attempt to see whether you can overcome the difficulties of specialization in scientific research. The problem of juvenile delinquency involves specialists in medicine, law, sociology, psychology and psychiatry. "These various specialists have been working on the problem from their own special point of view. The effort of the institute will be to bring these specialists together so we may profit by a joint attack. We are bringing Dr. William Healy and Dr. A. P. Bonner from Boston and they are going to study the family factors in child delinquency. They will seek to determine what elements in family life tend to produce juvenile delinquency in the past juvenile delinquents have been studied as individuals. Is that the proper way to handle this problem?"

Place City On New Strip Maps

New Castle Will Be Placed On Two Special Strip Maps In A. A. A. Booklet

New Castle will be on two additional strip maps in A. A. A. tour booklets through the efforts of the New Castle Motor Club B. H. Trimmer, field representative of the three A organization from Washington, D. C., visited the local motor club office today and planned the new routes.

The strip map means a special little sector showing routes through a certain city and they are a very desirable thing in attracting tourists.

The new maps include the Beaver Valley routes from Pittsburgh to New Castle and the Ben Franklin highway route from Johnstown by way of Butler.

Injured Children May Not Recover

Children Injured When School Collapses At Rye Cove Are In Serious Condition

(International News Service) BRISTOL, Tenn., May 3.—Relief to the southwestern Virginia tornado area today was centered from this place, where 56 of the most dangerous injured in the collapse of the Rye Cove consolidated school were brought in a relief train and taken to hospitals.

Physicians feared that a half dozen or more of the school children were so badly injured in the disaster that they would not recover. The injured who were taken to nearby towns were not seriously hurt, it was reported.

Peacock Renounced By College Chum

Eugene Bussey, College Youth Renounces Friendship For Slayer Of Wife

DETAILS GIVEN TO DISTRICT ATTORNEY

By DAVID P. SENTNER, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 3.—Eugene Bussey, Baltimore collegian, who covertly received the kisses of pretty 20-year-old Dorothy Peacock, bride of Earle Peacock, who killed her and then burned her body, today renounced his life-long friendship for the slayer.

Bussey came here to help save his erstwhile friend. Previously, he admitted he had been unable to resist the kisses of "Dolly" but was now willing to tell the whole story of Dorothy's flirtations with men to help save his friend. He and Earle had been inseparable chums since boyhood in Yorkers.

But following a long interview with District Attorney Frank Coyne, of Westchester county, Bussey today declared that he was utterly ashamed of his former stand. After Coyne revealed the fiendish details of the murder, Bussey said:

"I wouldn't care if Earle had shot himself."

Coyne today declined to state whether he would call Bussey as a witness in the state's attempt to show premeditation and jealousy on the part of the torch murderer.

Bussey told Coyne of the "neeking parties" with Dolly Peacock in Bronxville, of the gin-and-dance parties in her home in Mount Vernon, of the torrid love letters she sent him while he was at college.

Resists Arrests; Shot To Death

Officers Shoot Man Who Resists After Wounding Constable

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Pa., May 3.—Henry Orris, 23, was shot to death at a house in Raccoon today by two officers who sought to arrest him for the wounding of Constable W. S. Gore on a farm near Bulger, at midnight last night.

Orris was shot by County Detective W. S. Dinsmore and State Police Corporal Hanna when he drew a revolver on the officers.

Orris' brother, Herman, was arrested in Carnegie several hours later in connection with the shooting of Gore.

According to word received here, one of the brothers shot Gore when the officer and several others went to the farm of W. S. Russell, a mile west of Bulger, to recover three cows the brothers were alleged to have taken at a sale at Burgettstown.

The brothers were alleged to have fled, and today Dinsmore and Hanna cornered Henry Orris in a house in Raccoon. According to the officers, Orris "covered" Dinsmore with a revolver, and when Hanna appeared, Orris turned the weapon on the trooper.

Both officers fired at once, the charges mortally wounding the man. Gore was removed to Washington hospital, where it was reported he may lose the sight of both eyes as a result of the gunshot wounds inflicted on him last night.

Fisher Approves Of 32 Measures

Goehring Bill Licensing All Employment Agencies Included In Number Signed

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 3.—The Goehring bill requiring the licensing of all employment agencies in the state was included in the list of 32 measures which Governor John S. Fisher approved today.

The bill is intended to curb the activities of crooked agencies in the larger cities which have preyed upon men and women seeking jobs. Licenses will be issued by the department of labor and industry and may be revoked for failure to abide by provisions of the measure.

Activity of the "chain gang" labor agent also will be curbed under the Goehring bill, which forbids agents to hire or attempt to hire men for employment outside the state without having first filed a statement with the department giving details of the proposed employment for the men.

The Buckman bill which will authorize construction of parallel routes to highways which already are carrying all the traffic possible was approved. The bill was intended to permit construction of routes which will sufficiently removed from built up sections to reduce the resultant property damage which would follow if the original route was widened.

The governor approved the Goehring bill codifying all existing divorce legislation. The bill followed a rocky course in both houses, was amended repeatedly and finally sent to a conference committee before passage.

An act sponsored by Senator Frank L. Pay to facilitate construction of the dam at the Pennsylvania swamp project and permit acquisition of land in Ohio also was approved.

Counties will be permitted to appropriate money to municipalities or acquisition of airport sites and their operation under provisions of a Schantz bill approved.

Another of the series approved will require all milk dealers to secure a permit from the department of agriculture. The act does not apply to farmers who sell milk to dealers.

EMPLOY ANDY'S SONS. During the illness of Ben Cover, assessor, Andrew Sands, former assessor will help in matters pertaining to assessments, according to councilman action today.

Birth Control Advocates Meet For Protection

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—At a joint meeting here Monday of the Pennsylvania Birth Control Federation and the Southeastern League, a defense committee will be formed to prevent in this state attacks upon the organization such as that in New York when police raided a clinic and confiscated records of practicing physicians.

The meeting Monday was arranged to follow that in New York yesterday when an inter-state conference was formed with representatives from Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts. The permanent inter-state committee was formed as the result of a move headed by Samuel Emile, chairman of the Legislative Committee in this state, and a former member of the House of Representatives.

It is the intention of leaders of the birth control movement to form strong organizations in each of the states cooperating and then to operate in an inter-state conference at which problems affecting all can be discussed and plans made for joint action.

At the Monday meeting here Dr. A. Lovett Devoes, Harvard, will preside. Mrs. Charles E. Martin, Wayne, will make an address telling of the difficulties attendant to securing legislation which the League favors.

VIEW MOUNTAIN STREET. Commuters agreed today to visit the Mitchell property at 105 Mount street and view a situation caused by drainage water.

DESIGNERS INGENIOUS IN TRIMMING DETAILS

Dress designers are not compelled to follow certain lines in this season's models, either in cut or trimming. There are so many mediums of expression which can be used to individualize them. On the left, above, is a printed frock of rose and black crepe, bordered in black, to which a little black satin jacket is added for warmth. In the center an afternoon ensemble in caramel crepe de chine from Lelong, has its new low flared back and knotted scarf ends. The most original of the three models pictured, right, is a Redfern design in navy georgette, with a little cutaway taffeta jacket encircled with ruching, the same trimming being used on the tiered skirt.

Swick Seeking Addition For Vets Hospital

Engineers Approve Addition At Government Institution At Aspinwall

WOULD PROVIDE 50 TO 80 ADDITIONAL BEDS

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent of New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—General Frank T. Hines, director of the United States veterans bureau, has informed Congressman J. Howard Swick that the survey of Aspinwall Veterans hospital at Pittsburgh has been completed and that engineers conducting the survey recommended that it would be profitable to add from fifty to eighty new beds to the hospital.

At the present, the hospital cares for only medical and surgical cases, and Congressman Swick has been working to have a number of beds installed which would care for tubercular cases.

General Hines has informed the Congressman that the survey reveals that if a new mess hall was provided, 50 additional beds could be installed in the ward now occupied by the mess hall. The survey further indicates that if a new mess hall were provided and the administrative offices removed from the present building, eighty additional beds could be installed.

The approximate cost of the first project, that of removing the mess hall and installing fifty new beds, would amount to $152,000 according to the survey, while the cost of removing both the mess hall and the administrative offices and the installation of eighty beds would approximate $225,000.

General Hines informs Congressman Swick that he hopes sufficient funds for the improvement at Aspinwall may be found in the current $15,000,000 construction program already authorized, and states that he will make every effort to see that the necessary amount is set aside for the additional beds Congressman Swick wants at Aspinwall.

The General, however, informs the Congressman that he cannot assure the improvement at Aspinwall as a certainty until he determines the cost of two new hospitals now under construction, one in New Jersey and one at Coastville, Penna.

Congressman Swick is well pleased over the outcome of the survey and feels confident that the needed improvements will be made at the Pittsburgh hospital as Senator Reed and members of the hospitalization committee are cooperating on the matter.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement exercises were held in the M. E. church Wednesday evening for the eighth grade class of the independent district. The class consisted of Olive Wilton, valedictorian; Dorothy Barnett, salutatorian; Freda Raub, class knocker and poet; Rosy Matton, class historian; Helen Debrano, class artist; Elsa Dadds, Jessie Maughan and George Crynowich.

Class motto was "Play the Game, Play it Fair and Play it Square." Colors, pink and white. Each member of the class had a part on the program and several from fourth and sixth grades, each one doing justice to his or her part. At the close of the program a short talk was given by John Syling, county superintendent of schools. The church was decorated in cut flowers and potted plants.

Song Sparrow Is Ford's Favorite

Would Nominate Sweet-Voiced Warbler For Michigan's Official Bird

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 3.—The lowly but sweet-voiced song sparrow is Henry Ford's "candidate" for the title of Michigan's official bird.

In a lengthy "nomination speech" in the form of a telegram to Mrs. Edith Manger, president of the Michigan Audubon Society, Ford set forth the song sparrow as "our earliest singer in Spring and our latest in Fall, a well behaved, clean nesting bird and worthy to represent our state in the pantheon of birds."

Ford, who was one of the authors of the Federal migratory birds law and who is a promoter of bird-house building for school children, recalled his first acquaintanceship with his "candidate."

"The earliest event I remember is that of my father taking my fifteen-months old brother in his arms while my mother and I followed on foot to see a song sparrow's nest under a log near our home. I was three years and nine months old at this time."

Ford stated however that it was not only on the grounds of sentimentality that he favored the song sparrow but also because of its accomplishments, character and economic usefulness.

Astronomers Study New Star System

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., May 3.—Two stars which to the naked eye appear in the heavens as a single point of light, have been found by University of California astronomers to be approximately 1,000,000,000 miles apart.

The stars are known collectively as "99 Hercules," a star system with a sun about as large as that which shines on the earth. One period of revolution requires 56 years to complete.

Maud Makemon, research assistant in the department of astronomy, estimates that "99 Hercules" is 1,114,800,000,000 miles from the earth. The stars, she said, will closely approach each other in 1943.

Denver Girl Wins Bet On Jail Term

(International News Service)

DENVER, May 3.—Here's two silver dollars that say Judge Foster Symes will give me some rough treatment," said Jerry Brennan, 24, alias Betty Ann Hicks.

"Called," replied a deputy of the United States marshal's office. After the trial Jerry collected the wager for the federal judge sent her to the federal penitentiary on a three-year sentence. She was charged with transportation of a stolen automobile from Denver to Cincinnati.

According to the girl's story, her "sweetie" made away with the automobile when they reached Cheyenne, Wyo., and left her stranded on the plains of the cowboy state.

Most New England Homes Electrified

(International News Service)

BOSTON, May 3.—Eighty-four per cent of all the homes, including farms, in New England, are wired for electricity, according to figures made public by the New England Council.

There are 1,550,000 wired homes in New England out of a total of 1,953,000 homes. Only 64 per cent of the homes and farms in the United States as a whole are now wired.

All of the New England states rank high in this prospect. New Hampshire has second highest percentage of any state, with 97 per cent of all her homes served with electricity, being exceeded by New York state alone.

ENDED GAS ON MAN'S STOMACH AND DIZZINESS

Brakeman Benefited So Much He Recommends Ten Herbs To Public

"Ten Herbs ended my stomach trouble and dizziness," was the recent statement of Mr. W. M. Campbell, 1815 Ridge Avenue, Coraopolis, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, where he is daily demonstrating this new medicine to crowds of men and women of all stations in life.

MR. W. M. CAMPBELL

"I am a brakeman on the Montour Railroad, and like many other railroad men, I am compelled to eat my meals at uncertain hours, and sometimes I am unable to get a good meal, but have to eat a light lunch in a hurried manner." Mr. Campbell continued, "I think this caused my stomach trouble. My digestion became disordered about six months ago. I always had a very distressful feeling immediately after eating. Gas would form and press around my heart, giving me a suffocated feeling. I also would be slightly dizzy."

"I had read of Ten Herbs in the papers, and learned of the great benefits it was giving others, whose cases were much worse than mine. I started using your medicine and it did all that could be expected. I am now able to eat my meals without suffering with gas pains or having that suffocated feeling around my heart. I am also free of dizziness. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

Thousands in this section are using Ten Herbs to help protect them from influenza, grippe and other disease forces, and common colds. By thoroughly cleansing and roasting up the whole system, and especially benefiting the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, Ten Herbs gives one greater power with which to resist disease germs.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Queen Marie Gathers Many Perfume Bottles

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 3.—Queen Marie of Rumania, who continues to increase the valuable collection of perfume bottles which was a legacy from her grandmother, the Czarina of Russia, never allows a chance visit to the capital to slip by without browsing about in old corners where a choice new one might be found. On her last sojourn in Paris it is rumored that she went home with a precious addition.

Market Shows Upward Swing

Industrial Stocks Continue To Lead Way As Stock Prices Go Higher Today

By H. S. COLSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, May 3.—With lower interest rates and upward swing in industrial stock prices continued today, with more of the big grade dividend-paying stocks participating in the movement. A few of the high flying speculative stocks dropped in price in the early afternoon when Advance Realty preferred took a 25 point nose-dive to 44, the common stock at the same time dropping 8 points to 12. The bid for steel in steel, copper and iron mining groups pushed forward under the impetus of strong speculative buying, in some cases reaching the highest price levels of the year.

With the ticker trailing 13 minutes, the market ended at a 5,000,000 share pace in the American Stock Exchange 6-point jump to 143 1/2. The close was a 3 1/2 point movement to 147 1/2, and Radio returned to the active list, with heavy trading around 113 up 3 points. Western Union's 7-point jump to 200 accompanied rumors of a 2-for-1 split in the stock. Mammot motors topped 100 for the first time, completing a 34-point gain on the movement and Willys-Overland had an active turnover around 20. The banking and amusement stocks were again active and strong.

Mystery Develops In Kidnapping Of Telephone Operator

Chicago Girl Is Spirited Away By Kidnappers From Home; Two Are Beaten

CHICAGO, May 3.—New mystery today entered the slugging and kidnapping of Miss Rosalie Rizzo, 20-year-old telephone operator, who yesterday was abducted from her home by two well-known gunmen. Her sister, Mrs. Harold Carr, was mysteriously missing today after receiving a telephone call from Miss Rizzo stating she was safe and in the city. From the mysterious actions of Mrs. Carr, police believe she was threatened or perhaps kidnapped, also.

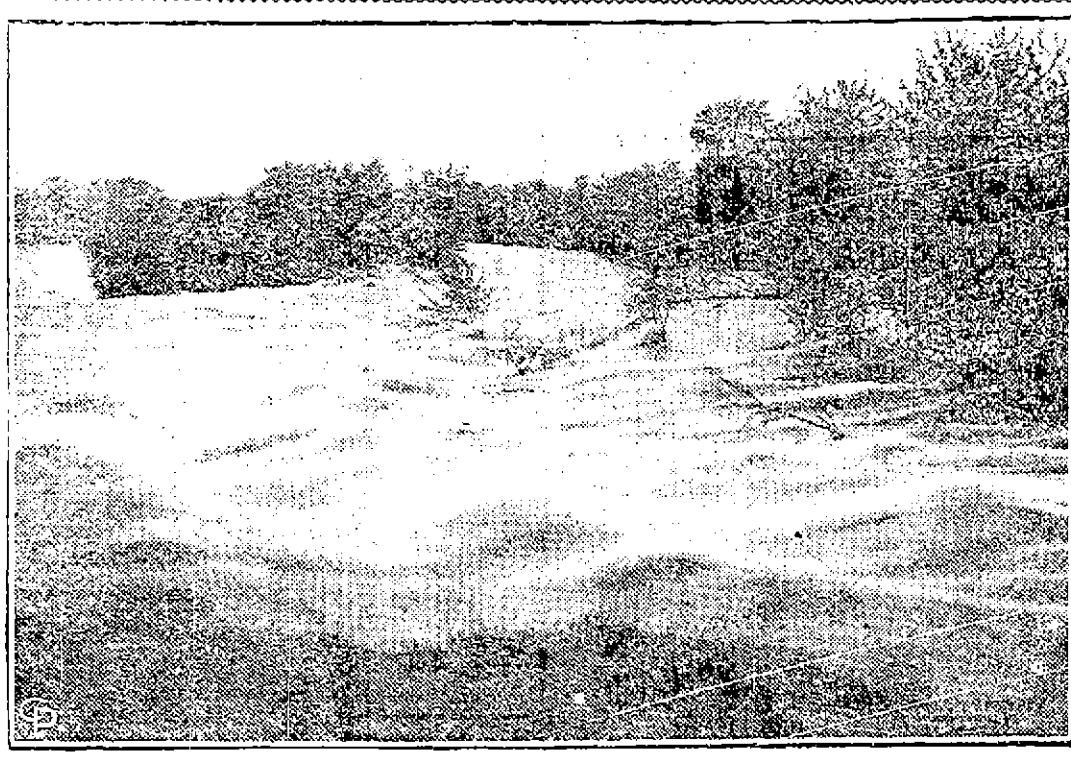

It was learned that the gunmen, before they went to the rooming house of Allen Ferns, where Miss Rizzo lived, had come to the Carr home, had beaten Mrs. Carr and then left for the Ferns residence.

There they slugged Ferns and dragged Miss Rizzo to a waiting automobile. Police said they learned one of the gunmen was John "Doc" McFarlane.

MISSISSIPPI ROARS WAY THROUGH BREAK IN LEVEE

Uprooting trees and tearing loose great chunks of earth the flood waters of the Mississippi are shown here cutting through a break in the levee at South Quincy, Ill., where the Father of Waters reached its highest crest at that point in 78 years. The river poured over 6,000 acres of farm land, forcing 25 families to flee.

Await British Ceramists' Visit

Will Be Guests Of Local Pottery Heads Here On Tuesday, May 7.

Plans have been completed by W. Keith McAfee, chairman of the Pittsburgh section of the American Ceramic society, for the reception of a group of English ceramists who will be the guests of local potters on Tuesday, May 7.

The party is now in the United States having arrived in New York last Tuesday. They have been inspecting plants in the east and on Tuesday will come to Pittsburgh. Here the group will be divided into three parts, the White Wares, Building Materials and Refractories.

Thursday morning the group will arrive in Beaver Falls and will visit the Mayer China plant. At 11:00 o'clock Daylight Savings time they will come to New Castle. For this purpose Mr. McAfee has arranged for a fleet of automobiles to go to Beaver Falls.

Arriving in New Castle they will go to the Shenango Pottery plant and go over it. A luncheon in The Castleton will follow. In the afternoon they will visit the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company and in the evening will leave for Beaver Falls.

The visit of the representatives of the Ceramic society of England is in the nature of a return visit to one paid by American ceramists last year. Among the American ceramists visiting England was C. J. Kirk of this city, who will greet many of his English friends when the party arrives in New Castle.

County In Grip Of Near Winter

With the mercury hovering between the 40 and 50 degree marks, New Castle and Lawrence county finds itself in the grip of a cold spell following the near cloudburst of rain early Thursday evening and a light fall of snow during the evening.

In addition to business houses being dropped into a slump by the bitter winds and coldness, farm work is also abandoned and the fruit crop is in danger. Consensus of opinion today granted that the temperature would be freezing tonight unless relief from the brumous wave arrives before evening.

Woman Posing As Man Is Exposed As Death Comes

Woman, 47, "Model Husband" Revealed As Death Comes Through Tuberculosis

(International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., May 3.—Death today had stripped the masquerade from a woman who for fully 20 years had posed as a man, married, worked in a Washington, D. C., munitions plant and turned other hard manual labor without her true sex ever having been suspected.

"Peter Stratford," 47, model husband, literally gave her life to protect her secret, for when stricken with tuberculosis she refused medical attention lest her disguise be penetrated.

It was not until she was dying and an ambulance from a local hospital called at a Niles, Cal., hotel, where "Mr. Stratford and wife" had lived for two years, that the truth was hinted.

When authorities went to the Niles hotel to question "the wife," they found she had hastily departed, leaving no clue to her destination and the identity of "Peter Stratford."

Aurora Races Are Again Postponed

(International News Service)
AURORA, Ill., May 3.—Attempts to open Aurora race track, tied up since May 1 by a "strike" of horse owners, who demanded larger purses, were abandoned today until next week.

Clifford Trimble, track manager, announced he hoped to have enough new horses at the track next Wednesday so that racing could begin Thursday.

Gibson Insists On "Showdown" In League Session

"Showdown" By Saturday Asked By Ambassador Gibson At Geneva Session

(International News Service)
GENEVA, May 3.—With a deadlock developed in the meeting of the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission over war materials Hugh Gibson the American delegate today demanded a "show down" by Saturday.

"Twenty-six speakers are deadlocked upon the issues of direct or indirect limitation of war supplies," said Nicholas Folias of Greece the presiding officer. "Personally I favor Mr. Gibson's publicity plan."

Maxim Litvinoff of Soviet Russia, heckled the speakers continuously and caused the side tracking of a resolution containing Mr. Gibson's proposals on limitation of war supplies, war supply budgets and publicity to reveal the war materials on hand in various states.

Dozen Balloons Are Entered In Pittsburgh Race

By S. L. NEIMAN
International News Service Staff
Pittsburgh, Pa., May 3.—Undaunted by the disastrous climax to last year's International Balloon races here, in which two balloons were killed, twelve balloons will take to the skies from the University of Pittsburgh stadium on Saturday, May 4, to compete for $2,900 in cash prizes.

The 1928 International Races are to be held in connection with an Aeronautic exhibition on May 2, 3 and 4 which is expected to attract the largest commercial airplanes in the world.
Lieutenant Commander Charles A. Rosendahl, commandant of the dirigible Los Angeles, will be the race referee, while Lieut. Charles E. Bauch, known as "the hero of the Shenandoah," will be technical or operations officer.
Most of the civilian balloonists who rode out the disastrous storm in last year's race, which started from Bettis Field, Pittsburgh, May 30, are entered in the 1929 race. There will be only 12 balloons against 14 in 1928.

Texas Bandits To Net $5,000 If Taken Dead

International News Service
DALLAS, Texas, May 3.—"Wanted—dead bank bandits."
That stark plea that was hung in 1200 banks in Texas with the promise of a reward of $5,000 in 1927, still stands. Officials of the Texas Bankers Association declare that the offer will not be recalled.
The association's offer declares that the organization will not give one penny for live robbers. They rarely are identified, more rarely convicted and most rarely kept in the penitentiary when sent there—all of which operations are troublesome and costly to our government.
As a result of a frame-up that resulted in the slaying of two innocent persons, the association has changed the rules of its offer to where it applies only to robberies committed in daylight. It is not a capital offense in Texas to rob a bank at night unless employees are attacked with firearms.
Benefits Result
In a statement recently issued by W. A. Philpott Jr., secretary of the association, many benefits were claimed as a result of the reward. It is contended that recent robberies are not the result of "rings" that preyed over Texas in 1928, robbing three and four banks a week.
"While it is gruesome, the $5,000 reward has curbed bank banditry in Texas," Philpott declared.
"The reward has evidently scared most of the professional out of the state," commented Captain Tom Hickman, noted Texas ranger.
The association has paid out for dead bandits since the offer was first made. There has been no reward paid since January, 1928.
Twenty thousand dollars of the $25,000 paid was given for the killing of bandits who had not scooped up a penny of money before being killed. Officers were "tipped off" in each case.
Sergeant Roderic Webb of Ector county, in the far western part of the state, was paid the first $10,000. He shot down two robbers Nov. 24 at Odessa after he had been notified that they would attempt to rob the Citizens National bank there. Webb and his deputies shot the bandits while they were jumping the bank door.
Sheriff Rewards.
The next reward of $5,000 went to the widows of Police Chief G. E. Bedford and Policeman George Carmichael of Cisco who killed a bandit in the famous "Santa Claus" robbery December 3, 1927. Bedford and Carmichael were slain.
The last reward was paid to Sheriff J. O. Barfield of Rankin who shot two bandits as they attempted to rob the First State bank at Rankin at 4 o'clock in the morning of January 12, 1928. Barfield waited three days on a tip.
Widespread criticism greeted the offer of the reward following the killing of two innocent Mexicans at Saxon early in 1928. The frame-up came to light when a third Mexican survived serious wounds and denounced the officers responsible for the killing of his two companions.
One of the two officers responsible was sent to the penitentiary. The other escaped and is still wanted by Texas authorities. The Bankers Association aided in the prosecution.

COULDN'T STAND THE JOB

Found He Was Licked When He Went To The Test
OLD STORY TO THE WORLD'S TONIC REPRESENTATIVE CARRIES THIS LESSON FOR SICK PEOPLE
"That man reminds me of Big Jim Hallway, over in Indianapolis," said the World's Tonic representative, as a big summer test McKee's Kut Tonic. "Big Jim was one of the toughest fellows I ever saw, but he had to quit a job tossing a labor gang because he wasn't strong enough to hold his end."
Big Jim couldn't believe anything could do him time. He was his match by getting a hard cold, however. He got so bad he had to quit his job. But he was able to get around and be wouldn't give up. The labor gang was a tough crowd. The employer knew it, but he knew Jim's reputation, and he made him boss. Jim was put down and howled like a baby because he had lost all his strength. The gang knew it, and he couldn't boss them for a minute.
"That was the day before he came for a bottle of World's Tonic and I met him. I never saw a worse case of catarrh for such a short time, and his stomach wouldn't give him any peace. He was as weak a big man as I ever saw."
All the first bottle of World's Tonic helped him a little. The second put him on his feet. After the third he burst up that gang of cowards, and they got a real surprise. Jim has been tossed that gang for several months now, and nobody starts anything with him either. That's the trouble with a lot of folks. When catarrh catches them they depend on their own strength, and it goes, and then they are weak. A bottle of World's Tonic as soon as they have it, which would save them a lot of trouble, but they wait until their cases are chronic. I suppose because of this I see more World's Tonic bottles than I do anything else. And I could make people realize what a valuable treatment World's Tonic is for catarrh. There would be many more happy people. World's Tonic is for sale by McKee's Kut Tonic Store, 1000 N. New Castle, Pa. McKee's, Smith's and all other first class druggists. (C.S.)

Travel Club To Spend Saturday In Pittsburgh

About Thirty In Party; Other News Notes Of Seventh
Ward

Members of the Travel club of Mahoning school, one of the school's educational clubs, will spend Saturday in Pittsburgh. This club is sponsored by Miss Geneva Fleming.

This is the club's first excursion out of town this term. Pupils in the club are all very enthusiastic about the trip. There will be about 30 in the party. On account of many of the children getting passes they are going in on the three railroads and will meet in Pittsburgh shortly after 9 o'clock. Three teachers will accompany the pupils. Miss Geneva Fleming, Miss Anna Benson and Wesley Leach. One of the teachers accompanying the pupils going over the Pennsylvania, another teacher with the children over the P. & L. E. and the other with these going over the Baltimore & Ohio.

Upon arriving in Pittsburgh they will all meet and will go to the museum. Also they plan to visit the zoo during the day and before returning Saturday evening will visit some of the downtown stores, starting home about 6 o'clock.

Thursday after school there was a meeting for all going on the trip at which definite plans for the trip were made.

CHANGE RESIDENCE
Mrs. May Kennedy and daughter Miss Hattie Kennedy of Darlington avenue are moving to 19 N. Cedar street.

MARBLE TOURNEY
The girls' marble tournament of Mahoning school will be played off this week. Between 50 and 60 girls of the school are playing in the tourney. Mr. Morgan is in charge. The champion girl marble player will be determined.

Last week at the school 200 boys of the school played in a marble tournament at which John Thomas was the best player and is boys' champion marble player of Mahoning school.

MCCOY'S BIBLE CLASS
The McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning M. E. church had their monthly social meeting Thursday evening in the ladies' parlor of the church. During the evening there was a business meeting, followed by a social time spent in chat.

At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served by the associate hostesses, who were Mrs. Lee Wetlich, Mrs. John Walter and Miss Venti Wray.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS
The installation of church officers will take place Sunday morning at the church service in the Mahoning Presbyterian church. Elders, trustees, deacons and deaconesses elected at the annual congregational meetings conducted recently will be formally installed.

COMMITTEE MEETS
The committee on the work for the Jameson Memorial hospital had a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. F. W. Guy of North Liberty street. Mrs. Guy is in charge of the work in the seventh ward district. The committee is composed of two persons from each of the ward churches. The campaign to solicit funds will be conducted in the ward next week.

O. R. C. LODGE
Ladies' auxiliary to Order of Railroad Conductors had their lodge meeting Thursday afternoon in the Glendon Hall. There was a good attendance of members present. During the afternoon the routine lodge meeting was conducted and business of the lodge was transacted.

At the meeting of the lodge in two weeks there will be a tureen dinner preceding the lodge meeting. Committee in charge of the arrangements for the dinner, Mrs. I. M. Stickle, Mrs. Earl Guy, Mrs. Will Guy.

TO DECIDE TIME QUESTION
Congregations of the Mahoning M. E., Mahoning Presbyterian and St. Margaret's churches of the seventh ward will make their decisions with regard to time they expect to conduct services during the summer.

The question was brought up at the services in these churches last Sunday but no decision was reached. The final decision was postponed until this Sunday. The question is whether services will be conducted on eastern standard time or eastern daylight savings time.

SAFETY COMES NOT FROM WISHING AND HOPING BUT FROM THINKING AND DOING

IT is estimated by the National Safety Council that at least 30 per cent of the safety work problem lies in the mental slant given to safety. The above sketch very effectively illustrates this point, one who thinks safety practices safety, and one who practices safety spreads the doctrine of safety among his fellowmen. The whole job lies in thinking and doing, rather than wishing and hoping.

Members of the Travel club of Mahoning school, one of the school's educational clubs, will spend Saturday in Pittsburgh. This club is sponsored by Miss Geneva Fleming.

This is the club's first excursion out of town this term. Pupils in the club are all very enthusiastic about the trip. There will be about 30 in the party. On account of many of the children getting passes they are going in on the three railroads and will meet in Pittsburgh shortly after 9 o'clock. Three teachers will accompany the pupils. Miss Geneva Fleming, Miss Anna Benson and Wesley Leach. One of the teachers accompanying the pupils going over the Pennsylvania, another teacher with the children over the P. & L. E. and the other with these going over the Baltimore & Ohio.

Upon arriving in Pittsburgh they will all meet and will go to the museum. Also they plan to visit the zoo during the day and before returning Saturday evening will visit some of the downtown stores, starting home about 6 o'clock.

Thursday after school there was a meeting for all going on the trip at which definite plans for the trip were made.

Aged Poor May Get More Care In Institutions

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 3.—Congressmen there are giving considerable thought to the problem of providing comfortable, non-institutional homes and spending money for America's aged dependents.
The Senate plan for an inquiry into the condition of dependent old persons throughout the United States has received new endorsement, and will be presented in the extra session of Congress, although owing to the limited scope of the new session the principal bill will go over until December.
Rep. Meade (D., N. Y.), is the latest to express approval of the proposal of Rep. Sweeney (D., Ohio) of the Empire State. He urged that the proposal be placed into law.
Appoint Committee.
The Sweeney measure contemplates appointment of a committee to visit the principal centers of the country, going through the poorhouses and similar institutions, later recommending legislation for a proper and immediate solution of this great question, Sweeney declares.
While in progress now being made in medicine and surgery adds to the expectancy of life, industry on the other hand, prompted by a desire for greater efficiency in production, has adopted methods prohibiting the employment of workers who have reached or advanced slightly beyond middle age, thereby adding to the number of our people who must turn elsewhere for relief in their advanced years.
Meade called attention to the fact that many European countries have already enacted laws to provide pensions and homes for aged citizens who no longer have the means or the ability to support themselves.
System Unfair.
Within the last decade, he said, a number of states in this country have adopted legislation for the relief of the aged.

"New York," he added, "has a commission studying the question at the present time, and it is expected that legislation will be adopted without much further delay."
Sweeney criticized the system prevailing in this country which compels aged dependents of normal mentality and good health to be placed in almshouses with imbeciles and the sickly.
"The brutal system which compels the aged and infirm to spend their few declining years in the poorhouse of the nation is a pitiful and tragic indictment against the civilization of our time. It is neither fair, just nor humane. Its cost is expensive and its results are destructive."
Many Reasons.
"There are many reasons and causes which make a man dependent in his later years. Many are incapacitated by loss of health, for sickness and disease must of necessity exact their terrible toll. Occupational and other misadventures likewise contribute their great share. Bankruptcy in business, financial failures, poor investments, and other cases tend to increase the number. The prevalent discrimination practiced everywhere against the older employee and in favor of youth is likewise a contributing factor."
Aside from the very few states which now have old-age pension legislation upon their statute books, our dependent aged are cared for in almshouses and similar institutions. In many of these public almshouses are to be found the unfortunate imbecile, the criminal, the idiot, and other wrecks of humanity, housed with the aged citizen who, through no fault of his own, has become an object of public charity, but who may enjoy at least fair health, an honorable reputation, and an intellect that has been strengthened rather than weakened in life's struggles.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—President Hoover held a lengthy conference at the White House Thursday with the leading executives of the automobile industry on ways and means of expanding motor transportation facilities both here and abroad. The delegation which called on the president included a majority of the big manufacturers in the motor world.
Roy D. Chapin, chairman of the board of the Hudson Motor company, acted as spokesman. He made a very optimistic prediction concerning the future of the automobile industry. More than 1,000,000 motor vehicles of American design will be exported to 104 countries during the current year, he said.

YOUNG HELD FOR WOUNDING GIRL

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 3.—At the point of death in a local hospital, Marie Kalinsky, 21, told State police Thursday that Robert Stiger, 21, shot and perhaps fatally wounded her during a lovers quarrel.
Stiger, a prisoner at Wyoming barracks, insisted that the shooting was an accident. He said he only wanted to "scare" her because she hurt his feelings.

"Why," the Journal is asked, "do they call them roasting ears when people boil them?" We assume they are called roasting ears because that is what the sun does to them in August.—The Saline Journal.

WHEN IT LOOKS DARK to any weak, nervous or ailing woman, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to her aid. Women in every walk of life today say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a reliable medicine. It is made from roots and herbs, sold by druggists, in both fluid and tablet form.
Mrs. T. G. McPike, R. D. 5, New Bethlehem, Pa., said: "About one year ago I was very weak, nervous, and losing weight and could not rest good at night on account of my nerves. I wrote to the Faculty at Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel for advice and they advised me to take the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. I now feel strong, have gained weight, sleep good, have a good appetite, and I am the proud mother of a fine baby boy. I recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to runaway women."

Frances Newman Is Freed Of Suspicion In Peacock Slaying

Garage Attendant Says That Peacock Was Alone When He Bought Kerosene

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 3.—Frances Newman, girl friend of Earl P. Peacock, confessed torch slayer, Thursday was cleared of the suspicion that she accompanied the young husband when he purchased the kerosene with which he attempted to burn the body of his young wife as it lay in a lonely Westchester thicket.
District Attorney Frank H. Coyne announced that Peacock was alone when he bought the kerosene after questioning Henry Remy, a garage attendant.
Moreover, police court attendants were unable to say whether Peacock had been accompanied by a woman when he paid a traffic fine the next morning.

British Heir's Marriage Plans Worry Society

By CHARLES A. SMITH
Editor of the New Castle News

LONDON, May 3.—Court circles are regarding with considerable speculation regarding the matrimonial intentions of Edward Prince of Wales.

The Prince, it is stated, has often told his friends that he will marry when he is 25. He attains that age in June of this year.

It is pointed out also that Marlborough House, the London home of the late Queen Alexandra, is now ready for occupation by the Prince following extensive remodeling, and that the "consort's suite" has been refitted and redecorated.

Consort's Suit.

If the Prince intends to remain a bachelor, it is asked why should he move from his comfortable bachelor quarters in York House, St. James Palace, to the bare-like Marlborough House? Similarly, why should such an essentially feminine set of rooms as the "consort's suite" be put in order?

Accepting it as granted that the Prince will marry to the altar some time this year, the court gossipers are attempting to forecast who will be the honored bride.

This is by no means an easy task, since with the passing of the years the list of prominent and illustrious young women from whom the Prince could choose a bride has been steadily reduced.

Under the terms of the royal marriage act, the heir to the throne is supposed to marry a direct descendant of the blood royal. The act has been rendered flexible through the ages, however, and at present there is nothing to prevent the Prince from marrying whomever he chooses.

Ever since he attained his majority, the prince has been linked by rumor and report to literally scores of young women. Among them have been a number of royal princesses, including members of the ruling houses of Italy, Spain, Belgium, Denmark and Sweden.

One by one, however, these rumors have been dispelled, either by the marriage of the lady concerned or by the passage of time, until today there is hardly an eligible princess left.

Similarly, of the Englishwomen who have been looked upon as future queens because of their royal lineage, only one remains on the so-called "eligible" list. She is Lady Mary Cambridge, daughter of the Earl and Countess of Athlone. The Earl of Athlone is at present governor-general of South Africa.

Modern Girl.

Undoubtedly this would be a good match in the eyes of the English nation. Lady Mary is 22, a thoroughly modern girl, and a favorite niece of the prince's mother, Queen Mary.

In recent years the name of the prince has been linked with three other English girls, in addition to Lady Mary, as follows:

Lady Rachel Cavendish, fourth daughter of the extremely wealthy Duke of Devonshire; Lady Mary Thynne, youngest daughter of the Marquis of Bath, and Lady Anne Wellesley, a society girl of 18 noted for her "old-fashioned" ways.

Each of these reports have been denied by the prince's entourage, however, and today only those in the confidence of the heir to the throne have the least idea upon whom his choice will rest.

Tibetans Use Skulls For Practical Needs

CHICAGO, May 3.—The peculiar practices of the Tibetans of using human skulls and other bones for various practical purposes and as symbols of their religious ceremonies were told here by Dr. Bernhard Lauffer, curator of anthropology of the Field Museum. Dr. Lauffer recently returned from Tibet and brought with him bowls of human skulls and other objects.

Bowls made from skulls are used by the Tibetans for libations in honor of the Lama gods. Tambourines made of skulls and trumpets made of thigh bones are upon exhibit.

ARABIAN "KING"

PLYMOUTH, England, May 3.—Colonel T. E. Lawrence, famed as "the uncrowned king of Arabia" has been attached to the Catterwater royal air force station here.

The man who held the Arabian world in his hand during the war is taking turns with his comrades as an ordinary private scrubbing floors and making up their baggage.

Lawrence recently was transferred for diplomatic reasons from the air force on the northwest frontier of India and arrived in England surrounded by much secrecy.

George Inboden has purchased one of the properties owned by the late William Miller. The family home of the deceased remains unsold, as does the property adjoining Fisher's Inn.

Pupils, parents and friends of the Sugar Valley school district enjoyed a delicious picnic dinner and interesting program on their closing day, Wednesday. A large crowd was in attendance.

The Ladies' Missionary and Willing Workers societies of the Presbyterian church held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Vogan Thursday. Lunch was served at noon. Nearly all the members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coblenz pleasantly entertained a number of friends to a card party at their home Friday evening. Three tables of the favorite game of 500 were in play. At the conclusion of the evening a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The Enon Valley Gun Club recently organized with William Gibson president, William Corey vice president, Herbert McRoberts secretary and treasurer, and Charles Albright a manager. They have a clubhouse under construction on the William Gibson farm, which will be completed in the near future.

On April 30 and May 3 the women's presbytery of the Presbyterian church held a meeting at the Westfield church. Reports of the year were given and officers for the ensuing year elected. After the meeting a banquet was served, followed by a pageant given by the young people. A good delegation from this place was in attendance.

Friends and neighbors numbering about 50 gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Algernon Ragen Monday evening in surprise fashion, where they tendered the couple with a miscellaneous shower. Games, music and social chat were the diversions of the evening, which was concluded by a delicious lunch. Mrs. Ragen will be remembered as Carrie Beight of near Petersburg.

Room two of the Enon Valley school, taught by Miss Hazel Andrews, enjoyed a trip to Pittsburgh Friday. Some of the pupils were taken by autos, while some went by train. While there they visited the H. J. Heinz plant, where after going through the plant they were served a delicious dinner. The zoo at Highland Park and Carnegie Museum were visited. Mrs. Anderson assisted Miss Hazel Andrews with the automobiles, while Mrs. A. Marshall, Mrs. A. Moore and Mrs. F. Kale assisted those who went by train. The trip was much enjoyed by all.

New Castle Man Praises Courtesy Of Auto Driver

SHARON, Pa., May 3.—An act of courtesy on the part of a fellow motorist was reported today by Joseph A. Sulzer of New Castle. Sulzer, a salesman representing a New Castle firm, said that while his car was parked in W. State street the car driven by Harry Winger, Farrell, collided with it and clipped a front bumper loose. Sulzer was making a call at the time so Winger stationed a boy to tell the car owner of the accident while the Farrell man reported to the police.

Sulzer says that the bumper had sprung back in place and that he would never have noticed it. If Winger had not told him, this act probably averted a serious accident as the bumper may have dropped off while the car was in motion.

Business Women To Gather Here

Plans Completed For State Convention To Be Held
May 17, 18, And 19

Practically all plans are completed for the state convention of the Business and Professional Women's club of Pennsylvania which will take place in New Castle on May 17-18-19. Under the direction of Miss Emily Salomon, general chairman of the convention, committees have been at work and little remains to be done in the way of arrangement.

The sessions will all be presided over by the state president Mrs. Helen Schlurman of Erie. With her will be other state officers, among them Beulah Manley of Williamsport, vice president, Helen Blair of Wilkesboro, secretary, Mary Lytle, corresponding secretary, and Ann Adams of Pittsburgh, treasurer.

Session in The Castleton.
The opening sessions of the convention will be held in The Castleton. Mrs. Elizabeth J. White, national secretary of Quota, will deliver the address of welcome. At noon on Saturday, May 18, a luncheon will be held in the New Castle Field club at which Helen Havener, editor of "The Independent Woman" of New York City, will be the speaker.

In the evening a banquet will be held in the Cathedral at which Judge Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, a member of the Ohio state supreme court, will be the chief speaker.

This is the second state convention of the B. P. W. held in New Castle and the committee in charge are determined to make this an even larger success than the one held here several years ago.

Giant Plane May Not Halt In City

Huge Food Ship Unable To Take Off From Wheeling Field; Not Likely To Stop Here

Due to the fact that the plane is stuck in the muddy Wheeling, W. Va., landing field the giant Rld. Murdock and Co. food ship which was scheduled to land here today in the City of New Castle airport will not arrive according to messages received here.

It is probable that the plane will not make a stop here at all due to the fact that it would alter its schedule in every city. The plane will probably circle over the city some time Saturday and pass on to its next scheduled stop.

The giant monoplane was to have stopped here this morning and remain throughout the day but rains had made the Wheeling field so soggy a take off was impossible.

Open Sidewalk Bids On City Owned Lots

Bids were opened by council for construction of sidewalks on city owned property when solons convened in formal meeting today at City hall. The lots are in Mercer and Elizabeth streets.

The bids:
Robert Cape, Mercer street, four lots, $225.
Robert Cape, Elizabeth street, one lot, $183.80.

Charles Benson & Sons, Mercer street, four lots, 18 cents per square foot.
Charles Benson & Sons, Elizabeth street, one lot, 18 cents per square foot.

Frank Cagnetti company, Mercer street, and Elizabeth streets, five lots, 16 cents per square foot.
D. A. Moore, Mercer street, four lots (no bid on Elizabeth street lot) 20 cents per square foot.

The bids were referred to the city engineer.

Freedom Of Port To Be Extended All Congressmen

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The treasury will continue to extend "freedom of the port" to congressmen travelling on official business, despite the recommendation of a New York grand jury that the practice be discontinued as "un-American." It was stated today by Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary, in charge of prohibition.

The grand jury's recommendation was made after an investigation of the circumstances which followed the arrival of the Steamer Cristobal from Panama, it being alleged that some of the returning congressmen utilized their official immunity to bring in liquor.

Collision Reported At Harmony Tracks

Joseph Phipps 1024 DuShane street, reported to the police Thursday that he was driving west on East Washington street at the Harmony Line crossing behind the machine of Carl S. Boughton, 823 Winslow avenue, which stopped suddenly. Mr. Phipps claimed in his report that he thought Boughton was about to turn to the right onto Butler avenue and turned to the left to go around him. Just as Boughton started to drive into the Dean gasoline station. The cars came together, some damage being done. Phipps claimed Boughton failed to signal. Boughton on the other hand claims he signalled and was waiting for the other machine to pass before entering the service station.

Joyce Is Freed On One Charge; Is Rearrested

Teddy Joyce, Youngstown, Ohio,
Entertainer Is Now Held
For Indecent Assault

International News Service.
PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Legrand Cuthbertson, known on the stage as Teddy Joyce, master of ceremonies at a local moving picture house, was discharged in morals court today on a charge of having contributed to the delinquency of a minor and was immediately rearrested on a charge of indecent assault.

Joyce, a native of Youngstown, O., has been appearing at the local theater for a year, where he has been the idol of flapper movie fans. He was to have been transferred to a Baltimore theater next week, and was making his farewell appearance here when arrested on the first charge. The charges of contributing to delinquency were made by Frank Burns, city teamster, who alleged Joyce had caused his 15 year old "stage struck" daughter, Margaret, to absent herself from home for a week.

Is Rearrested.
Arraigned in morals court today, Joyce was discharged after the girl had testified he came to her hotel room after she told him she was a friend from Youngstown.

Before he could leave the courtroom, however, Joyce was immediately rearrested on the indecent assault charge, preferred by Police Inspector Booy of the city detective department.

The second charge, it is said, is based on the girl's testimony that Joyce paid her numerous attentions in her hotel room while she attempted to interest him in getting her a stage place.

Brief Notes Of Council Session

Council today approved the contract between Woods & Golden and the city for the construction of Boyles avenue bridge slope walls.

Solons adopted Council Davies motion to erect a 250 candlepower light in the road north of Oak Park cemetery.

The street commission was ordered to advertise for bids for sidewalks on property owned by Cordelia Falls, Glenmore boulevard.

The city directed Councilman Taylor to purchase 200 feet of 30 inch reinforced pipe for the use of the department of streets.

Council approved W. J. Offutt's suggestion to buy 1000 feet of 3-1-3 inch conduct (tile) to drain the golf course.

Council will view Carl street today. A week ago the city spent $10,000, it is said to repair it. Last night's rain ruined the job.

Solicitor White was directed to file notice with the state bureau of municipalities a request for approval to issue certificates to pay for the Lyndall street proposed paving.

Underworld Revenge

His dealings with the underworld are believed by Chicago police to have been responsible for the murder of Dr. Frank L. Brady, dentist, who was shot to death in his office. They declare he was mixed up with dope peddlers and safe blowers.

Thru A Veteran's Eyes

Evers Writes Of Greatest Singers

BY JOHNNY EVERS
Central Press Special Writer.

Babe Ruth is unquestionably the greatest slugger the game has ever known. By this statement I do not mean the greatest hitter, for men like Honus Wagner, Deliahy, Ty Cobb and a number of others I might mention have hammered the ball much more consistently in their time and attained far higher averages than Babe will ever boast. But when it comes to a question of long-distance clouting the Bambino of course is in a class by himself.

I have frequently been asked if, in my opinion, any of the hard hitters of the old school could be classed as a slugger with Ruth today. I have in mind only one, and that is the truly great Honus Wagner. I can still recall one tremendous hit by Honus that had all the critics marvelling at the time. And when they talk about that famous home-run drive made by Ruth at the fair grounds in Tampa, Fla., 10 years ago, I question if this was a longer clout than the one that Wagner made.

Years ago at the Polo Grounds, and off the same old dead ball, Honus hit the pill over the left field fence and far up on the tracks of the elevated structure. I never heard of anybody accomplishing this feat, either before or since. Had the lively ball been in use the hit would surely have gone completely over the structure and taken rank as the longest hit of all time. At any rate, it would have furnished plenty of ground for argument.

Among the greatest hitters I have known within the last 20 years are several who stand out most prominently. Many of them were not able to pile up the averages that Honus, Mannish and others have acquired in recent years because the ball then was so much less lively. But when you name men like Larry Doyle, Ed Deliahy, Ty Cobb, Joe Jackson, Eddie Collins, Larry Lagide, The Speaker, Frank Baker, Bill Kreier, Corbin, Frank Schulte, Swa Crawford, Fred Clark and Clarence Beaumont, you are naming some of the greatest batsmen the game has ever known.

Many of these hitters had their peculiarities. Old Honus Wagner had mighty few. Only one pitcher in the National League ever had it on old Wagner and this was Jack Taylor, who pitched for the Chicago Cubs. Honus often said that he felt like throwing away his bat when Taylor stepped on the rubber, but one day he broke the spell. In a game at Pittsburgh he turned around and hit left-handed, banged out a long two-bagger and thereafter Taylor never gave him any bother.

Famous pinch hitters were Sammie Strang of the New York Giants in 1908 and Com Paul Kruger of the Pirates. Strang has a record of going to bat 11 times in succession in the pinch and makes as many safe drives.

Kruger's record never equaled this but he was about as dangerous a pinch as any pitcher had to face when the old base knot was needed. Harry McCormick, another great pinch hitter, drove in plenty of runs for John McGraw's old teams of 20 years ago.

Nowadays, some of our great left-handed batsmen seem to be more or less handicapped whenever called upon to face a left-handed pitcher. In my mind this should not be. It is largely a case of psychology. Men who should be able to hit southpaws equally as well as right-handed pitchers have had this thing drilled into them by managers who want to send and send in pinch hitters again.

Balloonists Hope For Good Weather

Twelve National Balloonists Await Clearing Of Weather In Pittsburgh

Aerial Program Will Be Carried Out Today At Pitt Stadium If It Doesn't Rain

By ARTHUR R. DONAGAN
International News Service Staff

PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Pittsburgh, looked a weather eye about today and hoped for clear skies for the start of the 1929 national balloon race Saturday.

Weather was the principal concern of the twelve pilots who will take off tomorrow in an attempt to set new distance and endurance records.

Metropolitan W. S. Fawcett said that the first clear day since the start of the 1929 national balloon race Saturday.

Cast As Judge

MARTIN WALDMAN

Martin Waldman will play the part of Judge Clayton in the mystery play, "At 9:45", which the senior class of New Castle high school will present next week. This is one of the leading roles and was awarded to young Waldman for his excellent work at the rehearsals. He has a speaking voice of unusually fine quality which many a professional actor would envy.

State Osteopaths Are In Session

Osteopaths Open Thirteenth Annual Convention In Grove City Today

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Pa., May 3.—The 13th annual convention of the Osteopaths association of Pennsylvania, opened in Grove City today. About 300 Osteopaths from all sections of the state are attending. The meetings are being held in the Penn-Grove hotel. The convention ends on Saturday.

Included in the group attending the sessions are about 50 from Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. The convention is expected to be one of the finest of its kind ever held.

Dr. C. W. Muttart of Philadelphia, president of the association has charge of the meetings. Dr. D. L. Clark of Denver, Colo., is among those present and will be a speaker.

One hundred of the Osteopaths present are from Philadelphia. The Penn-Grove hotel is taxed to capacity varying for the visitors. A big banquet has been arranged for tonight.

The clinic being used by the osteopaths is the Bashline hospital.

The principal address of the convention will be delivered by Dr. Arthur Plack of Philadelphia on "The Hazards of Hootch." Several New Castle osteopaths are attending the convention.

Commissioners At Mahoning Bridge

Mahoning bridge, which spans the Mahoning river near Hillsville is being inspected by the county commissioners today. The bridge is in need of repairs and the commissioners are ascertaining what is necessary to put it in good shape.

CANAL ACROSS STRAITS OF DOVER IS NEW PLAN

LONDON, May 3.—A new and sensational plan to the channel tunnel has entered the arena in the shape of a project for a canal across the Straits of Dover.

The originator of the idea is M. Jules Jaeger, a Swiss engineer.

"My proposal," says Jaeger, "has already been submitted to the British government. It is to construct two parallel dams to cross the channel from Deal to Calais. Each dam would carry two railroad tracks and a motor road. The water enclosed between the dams would form a large canal for ships and barges."

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN BARRED IN GEORGIA

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 3.—A recent showing of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" here was barred after a protest had been lodged by Confederate organizations.

For the benefit of American industries and exporters the business promotion section of the government asked the State Department to compile a census of citizens living abroad.

Many in Paris

The report, just completed, showed that out of the 77,063 Americans living semi-permanently in Europe, 25,860 reside in France. Officials expressed the opinion that a majority of citizens of this country living in France are of the wealthy class, attracted by the lure of the many social activities for which Paris and other French cities are famed.

Out of 392,858 Americans living abroad, 234,147 were resident in Canada according to the survey. In Alberta there were 98,030 Americans, 32,333 in Manitoba and 29,589 in Ontario.

Migrations of Americans to Canada probably is for an entirely different reason than to France—thousands of American farmers and number of industrial workers have gone into the dominion where productive soil and expanding industries offer an opportunity for prosperity.

Italy is another European country whose branches attract many wealthy Americans. The American population of Italy was given as 10,000. In Great Britain were found 11,117 citizens of this country.

In South America

There were 12,136 Americans in South America, most of them in Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

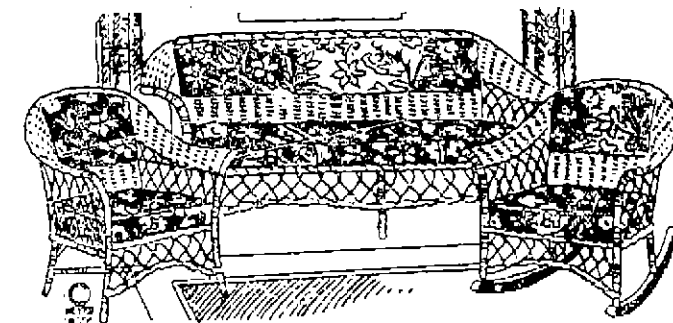

The American population of other divisions was:

Mexico and Central America, 19,258.

Many Americans Living Abroad Prefer France

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Americans with semi-permanent residence abroad are scattered from countries within the Arctic circle to the romantic South Seas, but France is the most popular of all overseas homes for citizens of the United States, the Department of Commerce announced today.

The report, just completed, showed that out of the 77,063 Americans living semi-permanently in Europe, 25,860 reside in France. Officials expressed the opinion that a majority of citizens of this country living in France are of the wealthy class, attracted by the lure of the many social activities for which Paris and other French cities are famed.

Out of 392,858 Americans living abroad, 234,147 were resident in Canada according to the survey. In Alberta there were 98,030 Americans, 32,333 in Manitoba and 29,589 in Ontario.

15,000,000 TOY BALLOONS ARE ORDERED FOR EGYPT

International News Service
TOKYO, May 3.—Egypt has finally turned air-minded judging from the order for 15,000,000 toy balloons received by the Kanawana Chamber of Commerce recently.

Transmitted through the office of the Japanese Goods Exhibition Gallery in Cairo, the order says that these will have to be delivered in contemplation of truth.

TWINS ARE BORN

HAMILTON, Ont., May 3.—Mrs. Annie Minnigan wife of Nick Minnigan gave birth to twin boys in the city jail just half an hour after she was committed to serve a 30 days' sentence.

One child died before a physician arrived. The other was not expected to live but rallied after mother and babe were rushed to the Hamilton general hospital.

Mrs. Minnigan appeared before Magistrate Jeffs in police court and pleaded guilty to having liquor in her possession other than that obtained on a government permit. A fine of $200 with 30 days sentence as an alternative was imposed.

Hopeful that her husband might be able to raise sufficient money to pay the fine Mrs. Minnigan asked to remain in the cells at the central police station. At 5 o'clock the fine was not paid so she was taken in the patrol to the jail. Police officers were aware of her condition they said.

WHERE RICHES, WANT, RUB ELBOWS

No similar acreage on earth represents such vivid contrasts as a mile square area on Chicago's "near north side," where millionaires who live on the Gold Coast are near neighbors of the gilded underworld and the slums, according to Harvey W. Zorbaugh, formerly of the University of Chicago, now on the faculty of New York university. The photographs above afford a glimpse of the truth of the professor's statement. HOOVER HITS AT DEBENTURE CLAUSE IN FARM BILL

President Hoover's critical letter on the National Grange's debenture plan of farm relief has led leaders in both houses of congress to predict the passage of the $500,000,000 co-operative marketing bill without the clause in question. The president outlined his objections to the export debenture plan in a letter addressed to Senator Charles L. McNary, chairman of the senate agriculture committee. President Hoover and McNary are shown above, with Louis J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, who advanced the plan. Some of the Hoover objections are illustrated.

White Way Of Nogales Is Dim Due To Revolt

Shadow Of Mexican Revolution
Drives Business
From Border Town
Cafes

PLACES DE NUIT SILENCED BY STRIFE

BY HARRY BERGMAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, May 2.—The grim shadow of revolution has darkened the once-glamorous splendor of Nogales' Little White Way.

Once, this border community of 15,000 souls did have its White Way before that fateful day on March 4 last when General Manuel Aguilar seized control of Sonora in the name of the revolution.

Comparable to some of the big American cities' famous night clubs, at least eight cabarets flourished here before the heavy hand of revolt stilling their gaiety.

Where once these pleasure haunts rang with sympathetic movement and the happy shouts of young boys, all is dark and desolate now.

Business Falls Off.

The last to close its door was the Palais Royale or Aztec club, as it was popularly known, a commodious place de nuit. Shortly before the lack of business had pulled down the Club Royal, a lavishly constructed joy-house, the project of a well-known Hollywood night club proprietor.

In this graveyard of the cafes still stands the Cosmopolitan, bravely braving the wind of insurrection. Somewhat pathetic, nevertheless, are the howling notes of its jazz orchestra, the mellow beatings of its blues singers, the listless movements of its white-clad waiters.

The demise of the night clubs is attributed to heavy assessments imposed by insurgent authorities and the sudden slackening of American trade.

Together with Chinese merchants, cabarets and bars were perhaps the most acute sufferers at the hands of the rebel tax collectors. Often arbitrary and irregular, the taxes usually are collected in the forms of "loans," cutting deeply into the profits and in-some instances eliminating all revenue above operating costs.

Traffic Stopped.

But even this difficulty could have been overcome, had it not been for the sudden interruption of the flow of traffic across the boundary from the United States. For the thirty Americans were and still are, for that matter, the vital factor in Nogales' night life.

Still there are plenty of Americans whose Volsteadian ardor will not permit them to fear the hazards of revolution nor to balk at the necessity of obtaining special visas from insurgent immigration officials. From all parts of the United States, but especially from the cities of Arizona and California, a stream of determined Americans trickles across the border nightly to stake thrills with glittering glasses of Tequila, Cerveza, Habanero, Cognac, Champagne or just plain Scotch whiskey.

Drinking, dancing, chatting, laughing, the gay, pale-faced foreigners continue to pour their dollars into the coffers of the Cosmopolitan, while just a few blocks away the shrill cry of a bugle summons a contingent of hard-featured fighting men to a new front.

Walking Stick Loses
Vogue With British

International News Service
LONDON, May 3.—The walking cane in England seems suddenly to have disappeared entirely. It is necessary to try store after store without even being able to find a single one.

Not long ago the cane was the pride and joy of smart young men. The youth who could appear with one of original coloring or design was at once the leader of fashion. But the young English "nut" of today would as soon be seen in the clothes of 10 years ago as of appearing in public with the "walking stick."

Nobody, least of all the manufacturers, can account for the change in taste.

BERLIN, May 2.—The Prussian minister of the interior has issued a decree instructing the police to confine itself in the solution of crimes to the five senses and no longer to enlist the aid of spiritists, mediums, telepathists, second-sighters and others claiming psychic powers and visions.

On the other hand, the police are also instructed to view the sixth sense with the proper respect and to pursue independently all available clues, including those furnished by psychic experiments of third persons.

CHOPPING BLOCK, AT BLOW OF HIS AX, DISGORGES DEAD FATHER'S TREASURE

NEW YORK, May 3.—Jacob Dunder, a farmer of Mountaintop, N. J., has an old ax he is going to hang up over the fireplace instead of a family portrait. The ax, says Mr. Dunder, is mightier than the speed. The story that came out yesterday goes this way:

Jacob's father, old Anthony Dunder, had no faith in banks. About twelve years ago a bank failed and he lost his money. Anthony said he was finished with banks. After that he son Jacob thought old Anthony saved his money, but how he saved it or what he did with it nobody knew. Anthony Dunder was not a talkative man.

When the old man died, January 29, he failed to tell his son the combination of his secret bank. People came and searched round the garden, lifted the bricks of the fireplace, dug in the collar, but not a red cent turned up. Jacob Dunder shook his head and finally gave up.

Last week he went to the woodshed, got down the ax and began to chop some kindling. The ax glanced off and hit an old chopping block nearby. There was a queer kerfump and Jacob noticed a burg had started at the other bottom of the block, a burg about the size of a silver dollar. He thumped the block again, and again, and other bungs started out, the size of dollars, half dollars and quarters.

When Jacob had finished his chopping he had extricated more than $3,000 in silver out of the holes his father had bored in the heavy block and shut up with bungs.

The imagination of the young farmer was fired and he made another search of the house, but not in the cellar or under the fireplace bricks this time. Instead, he took the ax and thumped the walls. Behind the bedroom wall where his father had slept and died were boxes containing $2,700 in banknotes. Altogether the treasure Jacob Dunder turned up amounted to over $6,000, which he dutifully carried off to Frank Geiger in Mountaintop, the executor of the dead man's estate.

As Jacob is the only son the $6,000 will eventually come back into his hands.

Are Arkansas Flappers Turning To Cigars?

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., May 3.—Fears that Arkansas City flappers have started smoking cigars regularly and smoke cigarettes only on the side are being felt here, at least by one drug store clerk.

"Several of the girls have been buying cigars lately," he explained, "and they never specify a brand, just ask for a good, mild cigar. If they were buying for a male relative, they would specify a certain brand."

Americans Real Sign Of Spring For Gay Palace

Parisians Look Forward To Arrival Of First Tourists Of Season

IS NEVER FAILING SIGN OF SEASON

By EMILY DEULAH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 3.—Tourists in Holland, marks in Strasbourg, visitors in America and Americans in Paris are the first signs of spring.

Parisians say that they can always tell when Spring is here by the Americans who arrive with the first warm days.

Already the transatlantic steamship companies report almost capacity loadings, and a leading travel agency, Fontainebleau and Chantilly where the kings' apartments have been subject to a thorough housecleaning campaign. Little boys are floating red and blue balloons in the Tuilleries Gardens and the chestnut trees along the Champs Elysees are in bloom. In other words, Spring has safely landed in the garden of France.

School bells will soon be calling the bakers to school to learn how to make good pre-war bread.

It is alleged that bread-making in France is a lost art, so the Millers' Association is opening a bakers' school where the art and craft of bread making will be taught to bakers who have gone in business since the war.

According to this Association the bread that is being eaten in France today is far from being of such fine quality and delicacy as the bread of pre-war days. Before the war, bread was made of whole-wheat flour which made it as light and delicious as cake. During the war there was a restriction on using whole-wheat flour but at the beginning of this year permission was granted to use it again. It was then discovered that many bakers had forgotten or did not know the art of making bread with such flour.

For the first time in the history of Paris a speech without words was delivered by the Indian Chief White Horse Eagle at the Civil Engineers Club.

Although the French maintain that conversation is one of life's great joys, there were profoundly impressed by the Big Chief's gesticulating silence which accentuated the importance of every little movement that had a meaning all its own.

The speech was pantomimed in the national language of Chief White Horse Eagle and grimaces, waving arms and shivering shoulders took the place of adjectives and verbs.

French soil will be cultivated by French women students who have abandoned more classic careers to earn their bread by the sweat of their brows.

Several young conservatory graduates and law students, who found the lazy, smoky existence of the city uninspiring, have shouldered spades and hoes and gone to the country to take up vegetable gardening.

of professions is a series of courses in book-keeping that have become extremely popular among French women in Paris. The students learn during three courses as a past-time but soon the beneficial effects of out-door life and the soothing effects of the country inspired the doubtful courage of a more active career.

When the course was finished, the students learned to book-keep, a plot of ground in the country where they learned with the book-keeping a thing making a career and a change.

The East and West will meet and work side by side, each in his own temple.

Paris is to have ancient Buddhist temples, transplanted, some by stone from Japan, where the rites of the Oriental faith will be practiced.

The temple is a mark of Franco-Japanese unity and is a gift of the Japanese Government to France. It will be a long felt need of Japanese students in Paris who are Buddhists, besides being a meeting place for Japanese subjects at Paris.

The temple, which is one of the oldest in Japan, will add another interesting feature for sight-seers at Paris. Besides their own famous cathedrals, Paris boasts of a church for every creed including a mosque.

Lawrence County Physicians Hear Pittsburgh Man Make Address

MEETING IS HELD AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Dr. G. W. Smeltz, prominent Pittsburgh physician, was the speaker at last night's meeting of the Lawrence County Medical Society held in the assembly room of the Shenango Valley hospital. A large attendance and the interesting address that Dr. Smeltz made marked the meeting as one of the best held for some time.

"Psychoneurosis" was the subject of Dr. Smeltz' instructive talk. He stressed particularly the functional diseases of the mind, for which the medical term that comprised his subject stands. The message was thoroughly enjoyed.

Following the speaking part of the program, Dr. C. J. Smyser of New Wilmington, president of the association took the chair and called for regular business. Dr. Edwin S. Cooper of South Mill street was voted into membership at this time.

The June meeting of the medical society will occur at the Carnegie auditorium on South Jefferson street.

Dr. Brown of the Pennsylvania department of health has been secured to speak on the subject "Tuberculosis." It will be illustrated by moving pictures.

250,000 SEEK PRIZES IN FLASHLIGHT CONTEST

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 3.—The average intelligence of the public, particularly housewives, is improving, according to the findings of a committee in charge of a nation-wide flashlight slogan contest conducted by the Bond Electric Corporation of Jersey City.

The committee reported that more than 250,000 individuals, mostly women, sent in slogans indicating an exceptional familiarity with the features of such products. Housewives were in the majority.

The winners of the contest, involving $10,000 in cash prizes, will be announced next week.

Make A Sizzlefoot Plane; Here's How

Following is the sixth installment, apply toward building planes in the model contest sponsored by the Boy Scouts here, the winner of which is interested in building model airplanes that will fly. These rules will be sent to the national contest this fall.

How To Make The "Sizzlefoot" By PAUL EDWARD GARDNER

The "Sizzlefoot" type of model is easily made and flies well. It derives its peculiar name from the fact that it has a singletail fuselage and a V-shaped tail. The fuselage consists of a tapering stick; the tail is made by covering the frame formed by the back brace and its braces. It can be made from easily procured wood such as pine.

The following material is required: Wood—Fuselage and Empennage: 1 straight-grained stick, 36 x 3/4 in. square; 1 back brace, 4 x 1-16 x 8 in.; 2 braces, 1/2 x 1-16 x 5 1/2 in.; Wing—2 pieces, 24 x 1/2 x 1-16 in.; 1 back edge, 7/8 x 1/2 x 1-16 in.; 7 ribs, 4 x 1/2 x 1-16 in.; 4 ribs, 5/8 x 1/2 x 1-16 in.; Propellers—2, 8 x 1 x 3/4 in. Metal—2 small nails, No. 16, 1 in. long; 2 wire shafts; 4 washers or 2 nuts; 1 wing clip; 2 S-hooks; 1 nosehook; 1 spoon No. 32 wire for binding; Fabric—1 sheet tissue paper or 1/2 yd. China silk; 48 ft. 1/2 in. flat rubber thread; Silk thread for binding; 1 3-in. rubber band.

Liquid—Ambroid or glue for adhesive; 2 oz. banana oil for surfacing. The first step in making a model after laying out the necessary material, is to make the various pieces of metal fittings that are specified. The drawing, Figure I, shows how each is shaped, and the article on fittings described each step that was necessary. The bearings are made by flattening one end of the nails and drilling therein a hole for the shaft, which is made of small wire, preferably piano wire No. 10, but it can be any other strong and small wire. The washers or beads are used on the shaft at the bearing to reduce friction. The use of the other fittings will be explained.

Plane Fuselage
Plane the long fuselage stick from the center so that it tapers from 5/8 inch square to 1/4 inch at the ends. To one end lash the nose-hook; to the other end, at right angles, lash the back brace, having first bored the nail fittings to each end of it, as shown in Figure II. The side braces are next bound in place, extending from a point 4 inches ahead of the back brace to the ends of the fuselage itself. In all lashing, be careful not to make the work bulky with too much thread. Use Ambroid between the wood and enough thread, tightly wrapped, to make a secure joint, then put a high coat of Ambroid over the wrapping. A wing that is curved will lift better than one that is flat, and a wing slightly bent laterally is more suitable than one made straight, so we will include both of these improvements in our model. The necessary bending will be done by boiling or steaming the wood, then allowing it to dry in a suitable form. Use a broad flat pan like a pie plate, filling it nearly full of water. Put the ribs in it and set it on a fire. Wrap the long wing sticks up in a wet, hot cloth, and lay the bundle with its center over the pan. Put a lid over this and let it boil half an hour. While it is boiling prepare the forms. In a piece of wood about 3 feet in length by 6 inches in width, drive nails as shown in Figure IV and when the wood is soft from boiling, lay the ribs in the curved form, and the long sticks in the angled form, using other nails to keep the wood properly in place. Let the wood dry 24 hours and when taken from the forms it will retain the shape.

Assemble Pieces
These pieces are assembled as shown in Figure V, using one long piece for the entering edge and the other for a spar 1 1/2 inches distant. First, the ribs are lashed to the spar in the positions indicated, and with the front projecting 1 1/2 inches. Next, the front edge is wired on by drilling a hole in the end of each rib and threading wire through it and fastening over the edge, using Ambroid for adhesive. In a similar manner the small central piece of back edge is wired in place. Finally a thread trailing edge is wired to the ribs, using Ambroid for additional security. Cover the framework on the top side with tissue paper or silk, first painting the center rib with an adhesive made by thinning Ambroid with banana oil, and fastening thereto the center of a piece of fabric slightly larger than the frame. Continue with each panel of the wing, stretching the fabric tightly and pulling out lengthwise rather than crosswise in order to preserve the proper wing curvature. Fold the fabric over the thread and fasten down. When dry, coat the wing with banana oil in order to shrink the fabric and surface it. This completes the wing.

Next, make the propeller using the method described in the last article, namely by drawing diagonals on the blocks and sawing to these lines, leaving a slight hub; then drilling the hub to fit the shaft and carving the blanks, one a right-handed and the other a left-handed propeller, fully rounding off the tips and accurately balancing each blade with the other. Put the right-handed propeller shaft through the right-hand bearing, and the other through the left-hand one looking toward the nose; divide the rubber thread into two pieces, and form each piece into an S-shaped hank. Put an S-hook into one end of each, attach the S-hooks to the nose-hook and the other end of each back to its propeller shaft.

The wing clip shown in Figure I has the upright rectangular portion to fit the fuselage stick. The reason for making the small stick insert in the trailing edge of the wing is now apparent; it was done to secure a firm hold for the wing clip. The wing is attached to the fuselage stick by passing the clip over the rear edge of incidence. The finished model is shown in the photograph (Figure VI).

In this way the rubber at the front acts as a buffer in the event of a bad landing, allowing the wing to slip forward rather than be broken by the shock. Before launching, put a 1/2 inch high piece of wood under the cutting edge to give the wing an angle of incidence. The finished model is shown in the photograph (Figure VI). Test the balance of the model by gliding it, holding it in front of you by the propellers and thrusting it gently from you. If it noses down, move the wing forward; if it noses up, move the wing slightly backward until the model makes a nice even glide, then it is ready for flight. Select a large, clear field for flight; face each propeller about 800 times. Face the wind; hold the model above the head and well back; incline the nose up slightly and thrust forward.

With other children in a lot near the dog kennel. Although the dog was chained, the chain was of sufficient length to reach the children who were unaware of the presence of the kennel. As the child fell the dog is said to have pounced upon her, twice sinking its teeth into her leg. She was taken home after which a physician was summoned. Ireland is reviving its folk music.

Thousands Of Legionnaires Expected Here

Line Of March For The Legion Parade Tonight

Parade Is To Form Promptly At 9 O'clock At The P. & L. E. Freight Station

Col. Rickard, Retired Army Officer From Franklin, Will Be The Main Speaker Here

Congressman J. Howard Swick Has Been Asked To Act As Master Of Ceremonies Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—The line of march for the American Legion Roundup parade was announced by Chief of Police Morrison this morning as follows:

The parade will form promptly at 9 o'clock at the P. and L. E. Freight station and from there march east to Sixth street on Sixth to Crescent, on Crescent to 9th, from 9th to Lawrence, down Lawrence to Fourth, down Fourth to Spring and on Spring to the auditorium of the Shelby Social Club where the program will be presented.

There will be six bugle and drum corps and three Legion bands in the parade, which is expected to be very worth while. Other permitting, Police request that no cars be parked on Lawrence avenue from 9 o'clock on, so as to leave a free sweep of street for the line of march.

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—Tonight is the big night for the Wilbur Randolph Post of the American Legion. Having invited comrades from four counties to meet here tonight, nothing has been spared in the way of preparation for a large evening.

Congressman J. Howard Swick has been solicited for the role of master of ceremonies, a role which he can fill very capably and there will be various other interesting numbers on the program aside from the speaker of the evening. Col. Rickard of Franklin was an interesting message to the local post.

The music committee has secured Col. Joseph Thompson Post band of Beaver Falls, the Butler bugle and drum corps and the Slippery Rock bugle and drum corps. The local bugle and drum corps members have recently received their new uniforms and will have a prominent part in the musical portion of tonight's program.

DAN'S STILL HOLDING HIS OWN

With whatever faint pennant hopes Washington, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Boston may have had being blasted away by early season losses, Manager Dan Howley of the St. Louis Browns has continued to drive his Missourians at such a hot pace that they have been able to hold their own. St. Louis looms as hope of the west for an American league flag.

Demand's Prison

According to Amos Vanvolkenburgh, top, of Kansas City, Mo., this poisoning of husbands by their wives has got to stop. He is now preferring charges against his wife, below, whom he claims tried to do away with him via the poison route. He was pretty sick for some time, but has recovered now and demands prison for his wife, who is alleged to have confessed her part in the deed.

Mrs. C. R. O'Neil Hostess To Club And Special Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—Mrs. C. R. O'Neil of Fifth street entertained the members of the T. N. T. club and a number of special guests at her home on Thursday evening.

Four tables of bridge were in play, and special guests present were: Mesdames Ed. King, Walter Levere, E. C. Wright, H. J. Jenkins, Robert Forbes, Steve Peck, C. K. Morrow, W. G. Thorpe and Miss Minnie Jenkins. At the conclusion of a pleasant series of games, score honors were awarded to Mrs. W. G. Thorpe, Mrs. W. E. Bayers and Miss Minnie Jenkins. Later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, who had as her aid, Mrs. H. L. Wilson. In two weeks the club members will be guests of Mrs. Fred Bell of New Castle.

Telephones And Furniture Being Placed In Hospital

Telephone Men Working On Connections, And Carload Of Furniture Delivered Here

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—The new addition of the Ellwood City hospital is being prepared rapidly for its formal opening Sunday afternoon May 19. Wire men have been busy fixing telephone connections for the building and a carload of furniture for the private rooms has been received.

This new addition to the hospital will be thrown open for public inspection Sunday May 19 and will continue for one week. It is expected that the furnishings will be pretty well in place by that time as much of the operating room equipment has already been installed.

It is planned to give all interested a chance to view this completely modern edifice and cars will be furnished by the local service clubs for all not having means of transportation up the hill.

Heavy Storm Causes Much Damage Here

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—The usual quota of motorists were water-clogged in the subway yesterday afternoon at the close of the heavy storm which clogged the sewers here and caused the overflow to lie in a large pool in the subway area on Sixth street. Farther down the street the water overflowed the sidewalks and into the cellars of the buildings. Until the large sewerage drains are placed, yesterday's scene will become a common one each time there is a heavy storm. The larger drains are included in the repair program of the borough council.

Community Chest Committees For Drive This Year

Personnel Of Committees For The 1929-30 Community Chest Drive Points To Success

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—The entire personnel of the committees governing the destinies of the 1929-30 Ellwood City Community Chest drive have been selected and all indications point to a successful climax of this year's efforts at the close of the campaign.

H. R. Smith who handled very capably the publicity for the hospital last year and was instrumental in putting the drive over the top, heads the committee this year, with W. A. Kerr as vice chairman. Success Attends District Council Of Young People

Although Weather Prevented A Large Attendance, Y. P. Conference Is Successful

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—The district meeting of the Young Peoples council had a small attendance Thursday evening in the Christian church owing to the inclement weather. However, from a program standpoint, the conference was most successful and worthwhile.

The registration opened at 4:30 o'clock, followed by a short recreational period and a banquet. Rev. Ross M. Haverfield of the Westfield church made the principal address of the evening, giving a fine talk on "Our Responsibilities." Short talks along the same line were given by Miss Estella Marshall, Miss Margaret Battersby, Charles Huffer, Jr., Harley Maskrey and Miss Elizabeth McCaslin.

Another feature of the meeting was the formal installation of the following officers: President, Miss Estella Marshall; vice president, Harley Maskrey; corresponding secretary, Miss Margaret Battersby; recording secretary, Miss Fern Cloak; and treasurer, Earl Meyer.

Rotarians Have Heated Discussion On Advertising

Business Men Prove That Advertising Is Harmful To This Country, At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, May 3.—In what was a most interesting debate, A. M. Stevenson and W. L. Dean proved to the rest of the club members that advertising is not a good thing for this country. The debate took place in the regular weekly dinner-meeting of the Rotary Club in the First Presbyterian church. The affirmative side was argued by Ed. Mackay's publicity suggestions were offered and discussed. The business has given the chest committee permission to erect signs across the thoroughfares and to put literature on the telephone poles provided it is not put on with tactics.

The business houses contributing 100 percent to the drive will be given a large feather denoting their generosity to this worthy cause.

Members of the publicity committee of the Community Chest drive are J. J. McLaughlin, chairman; W. F. Kegel, Lewis Nickum, H. E. Burns, Mrs. John Hough, Mrs. B. J. Bell, Miss Elizabeth Sowrey, L. L. Eedman, J. A. Pierson, Maurice Weinstein and Richard Barton.

Rev. A. G. Partridge, of England, is on his way to Tristan de Cunha, "the world's loneliest island," where he will take charge.

KIDDIES, men and women, too EAT NEW CASTLE MADE BREAD win $50.00 worth of ... PRIZES

Five hundred prominent New Castle Men, Members of the New Castle Booster Club, urge you to eat NEW CASTLE MADE BREAD. And to center your attention on this effort they have devised this contest. Everybody is eligible—it costs nothing to enter—and you may win one of the many worth while prizes. When you send your Kiddie skipping to the store be certain you tell him, or her, it is NEW CASTLE MADE BREAD you wish. Otherwise they will not be eligible for a prize.

GRAND PRIZE

Inside a Giant loaf of Bread (Now on display in the W. J. Offutt window) is a number. Only one disinterested person knows what that number is, and he won't tell. With some loaf of Bread sold in New Castle a ticket will be given that has a corresponding number. The lucky person who gets that number will win a shining twenty dollar gold piece—the Grand Prize of this EAT NEW CASTLE MADE BREAD contest.

2ND PRIZE

$5.00 in gold

Inside the next to the largest loaf of bread in the Offutt window is another number...the person holding the corresponding ticket will win the second prize. Five dollars in United States gold currency. Be lucky, save your bread tickets. Remember these tickets are given only with New Castle made Bread.

3RD PRIZE

kiddies only

The largest and most delicious cake ever displayed in New Castle is the third prize, the Kiddies Special Prize. This will be given to the boy or girl who mails in the largest number of bread tickets. Do not mail them in until Thursday night...for lucky number tickets will be given with each loaf of NEW CASTLE MADE BREAD purchased tomorrow, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Do not mail these tickets in without filling out and enclosing the blank that will appear in Thursday's New Castle News.

4TH TO 14TH PRIZES

In addition there are ten other prizes of one dollar each. Like the rest the numbers that win have been baked inside the other loaves of bread that are now being displayed in the windows of the W. J. Offutt Co.

Here's The Plan

Tomorrow, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with every loaf of NEW CASTLE MADE BREAD that you buy, your grocer will give you a ticket which has a number. If the ticket you have corresponds with the numbers inside any of the loaves of Bread in the W. J. Offutt Co. windows—you will win one of the valuable prizes. In addition there is a special prize for which only the Kiddies are eligible. (See column to the left for further details). Tell "Your Boy" or "Your Girl", as the case may be, about this. Give them a thrill, make their little hearts a bit brighter and happier.

Winners Announced In Thursday's Paper

Next Thursday's (May 9th) New Castle News will announce those numbers found inside the loaves of Bread now on display in the W. J. Offutt windows. Those persons holding the corresponding numbers will win the prizes described in detail in the column to the left. Then, even if your number is not among them "Your Kiddies" still will have a chance to win. Give the tickets to your child and have him mail them all in to Mr. Paul Griffith, Secretary New Castle Booster Club, New Castle. The boy or girl who sends in the most tickets wins third prize. In Thursday's New Castle News you will find a blank that is to be filled out by the kiddies and mailed in with the tickets. Do not mail these until you have found out the lucky numbers.

See PRIZES In W. J. Offutt's Windows

Bring the Kiddies down to see the Giant loaves of Bread in the W. J. Offutt windows. There you will find loaves that are bigger than they are (bigger than the Kiddies we mean not the windows)—and besides you will also find there the largest and most delicious cake ever displayed in New Castle. The cake that is the Special Kiddies Prize. One that will fill his and all his friends Tummies many times.

Oh, The Naughty Days Of '66 And "The Black Crook"

Stirring Times When Tights Were Introduced To American Stage In "Father's Forbidden Favorite" Are Recalled—Old Play Still Has Drawing Power

By Central Press
HOBOKEN, N. J., May 3.—Review in this small city across the Hudson from New York of "The Black Crook" recalls many memories.
 The country was at white heat when first it was produced in 1866.
 Sermons were preached, police spuried into action, and the play made a fortune. All because it introduced to America a ballet with—whisper the word—tights!

Which probably causes Broadway revenue producers to smile. But even at this late date—23 years later—"The Black Crook" revived by Christopher Morley, a high-brow author, and his associates, is getting into news columns to such an extent as to turn Broadway press agents green with envy. You see grandeur is recalling.

Tights Made It

Written by Charles M. Barras as a straight melodrama, "The Black Crook" (later to be known as Father's Forbidden Favorite) reached the stage at Niblo's Gardens, New York, Sept. 12, 1866. Little of the original text remained.

Opposition producers had been to Europe and had discovered Marie Bonfonti, ballerina, and her ballet for whom they had bought elaborate costumes. Arriving in New York, they found the theater then and expected to use had burned. "The Black Crook" meantime, didn't show up any too well in rehearsals. Therefore, the two producers combined their shows.

"Big" Money Immediately
 The original production cost $55-000, with a running expense of $6,100 a week. In the first seven weeks $87,000 was taken in. The first season's net proceeds were $670,000.
 Next to "Uncle Tom's Cabin" it had the longest run on record throughout the United States—more than 30 years. And it is used as the best example of the change in style of chorus girls—from large women to the characters of today.

Mary Asquith, New York play broker, whose father, James H.
 Browne of Chicago managed the early road tours, tells of a personal connection with the play.

"It came to Wichita, Kan., where my mother had gone with a stock company during a boom there," she relates.

Suddenly Takes Part

"In May, 1887, a slight backstage accident incapacitated my mother just when the overture was called, leaving the manager with the alternative of dismissing a packed house or moving his cast about and showing the kid, as I was called, into a small ingate part.

"So my forced debut was made at 20 minutes' notice. Blessed with a photographic brain, I needed only to read the part to know it. Three weeks later I became the juvenile woman of the company, still lacking five months to my fourteenth birthday. But I was five foot, a full 36 model, so there was nothing little girlish about me. Mother returned east to an engagement.

"Some weeks later 'Long' John Allen, nicknamed from his excessive height and thinness, came in for a month with three plays, 'The Black Crook,' 'The Devil's Daughter,' and 'The Mysteries of Paris,' a spectacular melodrama. He brought scenery, costumes, dancers and the women for the Amazon march—and they were Amazons!

A Child With Tights

"Some of his people played principal characters, so on Monday night I was one of Stalacta's fairies.

and unknown to me the 'oldtimers' nudged the entrances to see the kid with her first pair of tights. But I had seen tights all my life, so I was blissfully unconscious of them.

"Tuesday one of the dancers twisted her ankle and that night I played her part, Gelda, and Wednesday our leading woman learned that her son, at school in Kansas City, was ill and went to him—and that night I went on for Stalacta, the lead part.
 The marvelous courage of youth!

"For two night I satisfied my ambition and led the march, then our leading woman came back, the dancer got well and I retired to the original minor part."

HE WAS LIFELESS AND DESPONDENT

But ALL-BRAN made him wide-awake and well—doctor prescribed it

CONSTIPATION ruins hopes, saps strength. Yet thousands of sufferers have found the way to relieve and prevent this disease. Read how this man rid his system of constipation.

"During the three years before ALL-BRAN cured me, I experienced more embarrassing moments than I care to tell of. Being lifeless, dull, listless and despondent, I could keep my job. My friends didn't want my company and I was tired of being asked 'What in the world is the matter with you?'
 'After spending much money for treatment, I finally found a doctor who advised me to eat ALL-BRAN three times a day. I did this for three months and I didn't need to be told that I looked better. . . . I felt better and acted better. . . . I am still using ALL-BRAN every morning and have no trouble now whatever.' (Name and address upon request.)

Guard against constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to prevent it—to relieve it. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Far better than habit-forming drugs and pills.

ALL-BRAN is 100% effective. Doctors recommend it because it promotes natural elimination. Serve it with milk or cream. Use it in cooking—muffins, bread, etc. Delicious recipes on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining cars serve it. Made by Kellogg in day For Altoona

Ralph Kegarise, proprietor of Jackson field and a member of the New Castle Lions club, expects to hop off Monday morning for Altoona to attend the annual convention of the Lions club of the Pennsylvania district, which will open there that day.

All preparations for the flight have been completed, and only unfavorable weather will halt the plans.
 Mr. Kegarise was a member of the British Royal Flying corps during the late war and has been interested in commercial aviation for several years, establishing the first airport in New Castle.

Nude Cult Has Big Following Of Europeans

Founder Of Cult Hopes To Educate World To Advantages Of Freedom

BLAMES ILLNESS ON HYPOCRISY OF CLOTHES

VIENNA, May 3.—The cult of the nude has already more than a hundred thousand followers in Germany and Austria, declared Herr Hermann Schmidt, the president of the "League of Free Men and Women" at the League's recent meeting in Vienna.

Herr Schmidt was a school-master in Leipzig before he became the prophet of the nude sun worshippers. He gave up his profession of educating children because he felt that his true calling is to teach the grown-up the doctrines of the cult of the nude, which is in reality the cult of the Truth according to his teachings.

"Nudity is Truth and Truth is the universal medicine needed by mankind," said the new prophet "and we firmly believe that most of the troubles of the over-civilized race are due to the hypocrisy of clothes."

Clothes Unhealthy.

"Our movement is based on historic-philosophical, medical, moral, aesthetic and practical principles.

1. The classical Greek culture with its ideal beauty was based upon the unprejudiced love of the body and the equilibrium of bodily and mental health. The very name of the Greek school was gymnasia, which is derived from gymnos, meaning naked.

2. The entire body has a right to the wholesome energy of the sun. Clothes are unhealthy and are the source of many diseases—especially of neurotic ones. And what is the use of taking exercise and swimming in a bathing suit? It is an impediment when it is dry and it helps to catch a cold when it is wet.

3. Unnatural bashfulness, timidity and hypocrisy are but consequences of man's turning away from Nature and Truth. Uprightness, courage and true morality can only be brought about by the cult of the nude.

4. The sense of the beautiful can be developed only by exposing and viewing the natural beauty of the human body.

5. Know those with whom you intend to live. One should not buy a pig in a hole."

Many Gymnasiums.

The League of Free Men and Women has many "gymnasiums" where its members bathe and exercise completely unclad. In Vienna alone they have seven such places. Members are however obliged to modify their spartan habits when they go about their daily tasks in this "over-civilized" society.

But President Schmidt hopes that he and his vice-apostles will soon convert mankind including the police to the true religion of the Nude.

A Flapper's Heart

Plans Much Whoopie On 100th Birthday

LIKES DANCING

PLAYS BRIDGE

GOES TO THE THEATER

Mrs. ELLEN WINSOR

By ROY J. GIBBONS
Central Press Staff Writers
CHICAGO, May 3. A centenarian with the heart of a flapper is the strange physiological makeup of Mrs. Ellen Winsor, who, at the age of five score years, has announced her intention of making whoopie until the final curtain rings down on her stage of life.

On with the dance and speed up the music, the first 100 years were wonderful, Mrs. Winsor says. Her candle burns at both ends, but she isn't worried while it gives a "lovely light."

"Always I've looked at life through rose-colored glasses," the ancient, old lady declared on her 100th birthday anniversary recently, and I don't intend to change them for smoked spectacles now."

Night Life
Mrs. Winsor loves joy-riding in automobiles, the cinemas, dancing, card parties and the stage. She does the movies almost nightly, plays bridge whenever she has a chance and rides out in her son's super-six daily.

"I rode in an automobile 30 years ago when it was known as a gasoline buggy," she said. "I remember the city council of Chicago nearly voted 'yes' on an ordinance making it compulsory to drive motor-driven vehicles only in alleys."

"It seems like yesterday when electric lights were invented. I remember well the day I heard about it. Young men and women didn't have the telephone, the auto, the picture show, the radio and concrete roads to aid their love-making when I was a girl. But we managed to get along somehow with the old horse and phaeton. We had good times then as now. I've enjoyed both and I know."

On with the dance and speed up the music. There's a little old lady, with steady, clear blue eyes and a wrinkled, rosy face would join in the whirl. "I'm only 100," she'll tell you, "but I can't expect to live forever. Perhaps I've got five years more to go and I'm going to raise whoopie, as they say nowadays, while I can."

"It seems so queer to me that the people who were always talking about taking care of their health, always worrying about health fads and wondering whether a good time would sap their strength, are the very ones I have seen die off one by one."

"Just look at me. I've always had a good time. I've frolicked whenever I could. I've never worried about my diet and I'm still here and the others are gone."

Never Worried
"I'm a century old and in perfect health. The reason is because I've never worried."

"It's the women who find joy in living and who aren't continually burdening themselves with cares who live to a ripe old age. The others die out in their prime."

"In a few remaining years I'm going to get as much out of living as I can. Since my ninetieth birthday anniversary I've gone in more for the social things than I ever did in a similar period in my life."

"I count that day lost when I don't go to a little party somewhere. If I'm not invited out, I get up a party myself and have people in."

Seventy-five years ago Mrs. Winsor was a young woman in Devonshire, England, where she was born and where she lived until she was 44. She came to Chicago as a middle-aged woman two years after the great Chicago fire of 1871.

"She's getting along in years, but her heart isn't a day older than 16, she says. On with the dance and let the orchestra discuss something with a little life to it."

Thamos Parr, an Englishman famed throughout Devonshire, was a third as old again as "I," said Mrs. Winsor. "He was strong and healthy until a few months before his death. But he led the simple life. I haven't. When they took Parr to London to honor his years, he wilted and died from the unaccustomed excitement of being feted and dined."

Just What You Make It
"Life is what you make it, but you can't change your habits at 80 or 90 or 100 and expect to live to tell about it. It's too much of a jolt to the system."

Mrs. Winsor's husband has been dead many years and two of her daughters, as well. She has three sons living, however, fifteen grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren.

"They'll carry on when I'm gone," she said. On with the dance. Let the music play fast and loud.

Japanese Art For Exhibit In Italy

Traditional Pictures To Be Shown In Native Setting Soon

(International News Service)
TOKYO, May 3.—The introduction of real Japanese paintings into Europe is the ambition of Baron Kishichiro Okura. One of Japan's prominent millionaires and patron of arts. To fulfill this ambition, the Baron has decided to leave Japan early next spring for Italy, where he will have an exhibition of Japanese modern paintings held under the auspices of the Italian government.

By real and intrinsic paintings the Baron means those pictures which embody the traditional spirit of Japan in contrast to those "abnormal pictures," which are often taken to foreign countries as representatives of Japan's art.

In order that European peoples may appreciate the pictures in their Japanese atmosphere, Baron Okura will have Japanese carpenters and paper-hangers sent to Rome to furnish the exhibition building in true Japanese style.

Maple Sugar Industry Important In Canada
(International News Service)
OTTAWA, Ont., May 3.—The maple sugar and maple syrup industry in Canada has reached a total value of $3,584,563, according to a research conducted by the Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Quebec leads the provinces in sap-production with Ontario second, the bulletin says.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

America In The 20th Century
War With Mexico Averted

THE SEIZURE OF VERA CRUZ, MEXICO, BY UNITED STATES FORCES (APRIL 21, 1914), TO EXACT A FORMAL APOLOGY FROM THE HUERTA GOVERNMENT FOR THE ARREST OF AMERICAN BLUEJACKETS MADE WAR SEEM A CERTAINITY. AT THIS CRITICAL MOMENT ARGENTINA, BRAZIL AND CHILE (THE "A.B.C. POWERS") OFFERED TO MEDIATE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO. PRESIDENT WILSON READILY ACCEPTED THEIR SERVICES.

DELEGATES FROM THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO MET THOSE OF THE MEDIATING NATIONS AT NIAGARA, CANADA. AFTER MUCH DISCUSSION, AN AGREEMENT WAS REACHED. MEXICO WAS TO ESTABLISH A PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT AND HOLD A FAIR ELECTION. THE UNITED STATES WAS TO WAIVE CLAIM FOR INDEMNITY, AND WITHDRAW ITS FORCES AS SOON AS ORDER WAS RESTORED.

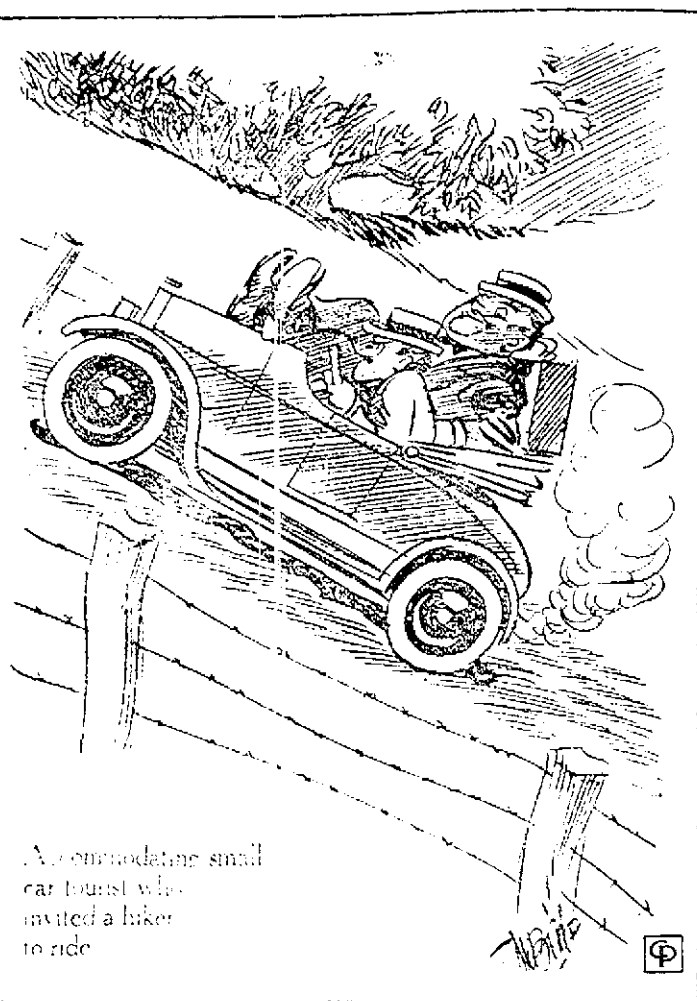

JULY 15, 1914, VICTORIANO HUERTA RESIGNED AND FLED FROM MEXICO, AND ON AUGUST 20 GEN. CARRANZA AND HIS FOLLOWERS MADE THEIR TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO MEXICO CITY. BY THE MIDDLE OF SEPTEMBER THE UNITED STATES TROOPS WERE RECALLED. PRESIDENT WILSON HAD FAILED TO MAKE HUERTA SALUTE OUR FLAG, BUT HE HAD FORCED THE USURPER TO RELINQUISH HIS ILL-GOTTEN POWER.

WE WERE DESTINED TO HAVE FURTHER TROUBLE WITH MEXICO. BUT IT WAS OVERSHADOWED BY THE GREAT WAR, WHICH BEGAN IN EUROPE IN THE SUMMER OF 1914 AND MADE ITSELF FELT IN ALL THE FAR-FLUNG PARTS OF THE WORLD.

YANKEES TO MEET WESTERN TEAMS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Special Editor, International News Service
NEW YORK, May 3.—They are starting to strike at a trial balance in the major leagues today as the west comes east and the east goes west for baseball's first big show down of the 1929 season in inter-sectional games that will test the New York Yankees in particular much of what they wish to know about the immediate future. The thing may be done in somewhat momentous numbers, for the Yankees are headed into the land that yielded them their last two pennants and now may rise up to deny them a third. The western end of the American league no longer is a mere kick in the pants for the club that seeks a league record with four consecutive victories.

Frankly they don't figure to get it. Regardless of what happened in the Yankee-Athletic meetings of 1928, the Yanks really won their last two pennants in the west. If they are to lose this one I think that is where they will do it.

Fail on Road.
Few clubs ever won a pennant unless they could show a winning percentage on the road a fact that makes these inter-sectional meetings what they are. The west's tour of the National league, therefore, is a most significant one, signing the Chicago Cubs, but choice for the pennant this year couldn't beat anything except a retreat in this season during the last two seasons.

Browns Are Three.
The day seems to be one when that can happen again. The Browns leading the American league today with 11 out of their 15 look the part of a real contender. They aren't perfect but a club with that kind of pitching can understand the part of such time as perfection comes along. Detroit still has its hitting and apparently an increased will to win. The Tigers are a better club and you can go and bet it that way.

The same with the Indians whose lack of punch last year certainly has been remedied to some extent by the addition of Averill and Palk. As for the White Sox it may be that they are beginning to see something for the first time since the Black Sox tried to ascertain just what made the pillow slip.

The west may not have the 1929 pennant winner in the American league but it does hold the possibility of hoarding up a lot of minor grief for somebody. Personally I think that somebody is more likely to beat the Yankees than the Athletics, particularly on this trip. The Yanks at the moment face only one pitcher who is pitching and exactly no hitters who are hitting which gives them a grand total of 600.

They are drawing a breather out there today as the west doesn't take up the inter-sectional cudgel until tomorrow. The National league will have its big day this afternoon, weather willing. The invading west should find as usual, only the Giants capable of making a play against it. The Braves don't figure and, unless all calculations are knock-knocked they will be down with the Dodgers and Phils before the invasion is ended.

The inter-sectional games therefore are tougher on the Giants than they are on the visiting west. For while the Giants must take on each western entry in succession, meaning that they are embroiled in a rounder every day of the invasion, the three western clubs that are not involved at the time can proceed to tarry.

The Cubs couldn't do this last year, especially in Philadelphia. If they fail again it can only mean that they don't belong.

Babe Ruth Gets Two Fine Gifts

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 3.—Babe Ruth has two treasured and unique gifts today in the form of baseball upon which are inscribed records of his home run feats. The microscopic records were inscribed on the balls by the donor, Dottie P. Winter of Savannah, Ga.

On one ball is inscribed the box score of the last 1928 world series, in which the king of clout hit three homers, and also a detailed account of the game.

On the other ball are recorded the 60 home runs hit by the Babe in 1927, with the dates and names of opposing pitchers.

Six Teams Will Comprise County Loop This Year

Rick Motors Advise League Officials That They Will Not Start Season

SCHEDULE REVISED WITH SIX TEAMS

The Lawrence County league will not open on Saturday as planned. Neither will the league be comprised of seven teams as had been scheduled. On Thursday afternoon Elmer Robinson, manager of the Rick Motors, formerly Ryan, was informed, Eddie Conner that a team would not start the season. Several reasons were advanced by Robinson for not desiring a franchise this year.

The withdrawal of the Rick Motors leaves only six teams in the circuit as follows: Wampum, Bessemer, Hillsville, Slovak A. C., Italian A. A., and Pennsy Railroad. A new schedule has been drawn up for approval by the league.

Saturday was to have been the opening date but the opening has been advanced until next Tuesday. Three games are carried for next Tuesday, one next Thursday and two next Saturday.

Action Regretted.
The league officials regret very much the dropping out of the Rick Motors or Ryanstown as they were known last year. The team under the guidance of Elmer Robinson, captured the Twilight league flag in a series of games with the Wampum club.

The following schedule will be carried out next week:
Tuesday May 14th.
Italian A. A. at Slovak A. C.
Hillsville at Bessemer.
Wampum at Pennsy Railroad.
Thursday May 16th.
Bessemer at Hillsville.
Saturday May 18th.
Slovak A. C. at Wampum.
Pennsy Railroad at Italian A. A.

$720,000 Yacht For British Sportsman

LONDON, May 3.—A Diesel yacht costing $750,000 is being built for Sir Richard Cooper, famous British yachtsman, to the design of Cox and Stevens, naval architects, of New York.

The boat will be built at the Walkers and Co. yard of Swan, Hunter and Wigham Richardson.

The new vessel is to be of steel construction with an overall length of 145 feet, beam of 27 feet and draught of 10 feet 6 inches. She will be driven by a pair of 350 h. p. Sulzer Diesel engines, and will have a complete equipment of auxiliary motors.

Fitted with hot water, lighted by electricity, furnished with the most modern kind of plumbing with an American pressure system, the boat is designed for long cruises. In appearance she follows the lines which have come back into American yachts after a post-war period of straight lines and plumb stems.

Two Coast Crews To Row On Hudson

(International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., May 3.—Two University of California crews—probably the varsity and freshmen—will go back for the national regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on the Hudson June 22. The Golden Bear will leave June 4.

Ten thousand dollars has been appropriated to send the men east. As this sum will only pay the expenses of two crews the junior varsity will likely be left at home.

The varsity eight, as the result of its impressive victory over Washington last Saturday, has already been named the favorite at Poughkeepsie. Coach Ky Ebright will resume work for the national regatta around May 7.

Seven of the men in the varsity rowed at the Olympic games last year and four of them—Caldwell, T. Dally, St. Workman, G. and Brinck, 2—will be back again next year.

SOLOMON, OTTO BATTLE TONIGHT

Mickie Battles McTiernan And Otto Clashes With Fuente

Two New Castle fighters step out tonight in fistic combat, one being Mickie Solomon and the other Fritz Otto. Solomon is a Transylvania by ancestry and Otto came here from the Rhineland, Germany. Solomon is a welterweight and Otto a heavyweight.

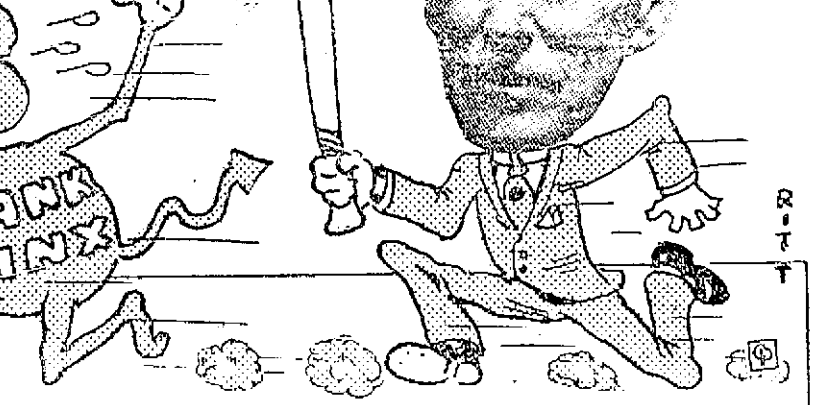

Solomon is slated to meet Duck McTiernan in a main bout at Pittsburgh and Otto is scheduled to oppose Tony Fuente, the Mexican heavyweight, in one of two star bouts at Erie.

The last time Solomon and McTiernan boxed the decision went to McTiernan. Fuente has experience on Otto having battled along the Pacific coast before he fled eastward.

THAT YANKEE JINX FOR A'S—BUSTED AT LAST!

With tables turned at last, Connie Mack and his fast-stepping Athletics have been convulsing American league fans with glee by making life miserable for the New York Yankees in early season games. In past seasons a Yankee jinx licked the A's when they faced the Gothamites. Last year that jinx cost Connie a pennant. But this year—well, Mr. Jinx seems on the run.

Chambers Leaves Pittsburgh Team

Athletic Trainer Leaves Pirates, Is Under Contract By Georgia Tech

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Michael Chambers, chief trainer for the Pirates, has resigned and will take a similar post with Georgia Tech in the near future. It was announced yesterday by the Pirate management.

He said goodbye to the Pirates at Forbes field and left for Columbus, O., where he has been football trainer for Ohio State university. In accepting the job with the Golden Tornado, Chambers also resigned from Ohio State.

Early this year, Barnes Dreyfus, who had the job of chief trainer for Pittsburgh and Chambers accepted after permission had been granted by Georgia Tech's athletic commission with which he is under contract.

George Aston, assistant to Chambers, will become chief trainer for the Pirates. Dreyfus said.

Geneva Tech To Meet Saturday

Geneva College Tracksters Ready For Meet With Carnegie Tech Team

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., May 3.—After having made a reputable showing at the Penn relays, the Geneva College tracksters are ready for the Penn under path artists of Carnegie Tech on Saturday at Ross stadium. A glance into record of the past shows that Geneva track teams have always round the Tartans worthy competition with the exception of meetings between the two schools within the last three years. Tech's team is probably a little stronger than their aggregations of a year ago, while Geneva is somewhat weakened. At any rate, the meet should prove to be a good one, with Geneva apparently picked as pre-meet favorites.

Losing much strength from last year in the field events, the Gold and White team is probably a little stronger in the running events. Thomas, freshman star from Mon City high, is looking good and may be counted on to score in the dash and sprints. "Latham" is his same old self again in the hurdles and he is anxious to cop both the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes. Coach Park has been extremely pleased with the work of his middle and long distance men. Capt. Piper, Nelson, S. Leckley and Wilson. Nelson is only a freshman and is already looming up as the leading half-mile of the district.

Cliff Baird is showing good form in the high jump and Ward is broad-jumping consistently around 22 feet. Geneva has no outstanding men in the pole vault, although Ransom has cleared 11 feet in recent meets. Clair Nierman and "Red" Davis are Geneva's dependables in the weights and Len Friedman is ready to start a campaign on his own district javelin record. Len finished second in this event at the Penn relays and is usually improves as the season wears on.

Ott Finds Grimes His Toughest Pitcher

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 3.—Madelin Ott, youthful slapper of the New York Giants, says that Burleigh Grimes of the Pittsburgh Pirates is the hardest pitcher in the league for him to hit.

"I got a few hits off Grimes last year, but not many," says Master Ott. "I'd rather see any other pitcher in the league in the box than Burleigh."

Few Hitters Make Hundred Home Runs

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 3.—Only four National league players have made more than the home runs. They are Cy Williams of the Phils, Roger Hornsby of the Cubs, George Kelly of Cincinnati and Jim Bottomley of the Cardinals.

At the start of the present season, the totals of the quartet were: Williams 246, Hornsby 249, Kelly 131, Bottomley 116.

GROVE PITCHES

(International News Service)
BOSTON, May 3.—Robert Meigs Grove, star slapper of the Philadelphia Athletics, ready to be a "iron man" after pitching five innings on Wednesday until the Athletics piled up a big lead. Lefty came right back yesterday and went the route against the Red Sox, winning 5 to 1. The A's took the series three games to one.

All other scheduled games in the six leagues were halted by rain.
